

1) Structure and existence of federal judiciary

a) Merits

i) pros

(1) Supremacy clause: declaration that constitution is binding on courts, and that clause will bind the states

(2) Resolve non-state (foreign) issues (article III, section 2) (before the Judiciary act, this was all that the courts heard -- note opposition view: Congress create all of the courts that the constitution alludes to for the specific constitutional jurisdiction: full extent of judicial power be vested somewhere in the federal courts only for admiralty, federal question, and ambassadors¹)

(a) admiralty

(b) Ambassadors

(c) Federal questions

ii) Purpose: reasons that the states can't do both things constitution doesn't take the power to hear federal issues away from them

(1) Inherently biased in enforcement²

(2) Disuniformity "local spirit" (deep inherent parochially that can't be judge)³

(3) State courts are not life tenured⁴

(4) Could be a problem with stature and procedure in the state courts adjudicating federal issues⁵

iii) Article three does not specific if judicial powers should be in federal or state court anyway

b) Theoretical models (progressed from 1789 with limited jurisdiction, to post-civil war habeas jurisdiction, to 1871 constitutional and federal law questions, to 1960s protection of federal rights existing in the federal system, to 1970s where state courts may have more original jurisdiction) see habeas ¶ 3 below page 29

i) model #1: Hamilton's model (federal courts should hear federal issues initially) -- post judgement removal could be similar to this. We seem to be moving toward a model where state courts have primary jurisdiction. There is nothing in Article 3 which obligates a federal court to be the forum for judicial review, and state courts are the equivalent of federal

¹ Professor Amar

² Federalist Paper 81

³ Federalist Paper 81

⁴ Federalist Paper 81

⁵ Federalist Paper 81

courts for these purposes. Federal courts, according to Hamilton is supposed to an oversight, such as in Habeas or in post-judgement civil rights review (see later) -- see habeas ¶ 3 below page 29

(1) US Supreme Court

(2) Federal Courts: Lower federal courts can also be trial courts for federal issues (as in Article 3), therefore there could also be appellate federal courts -- see habeas ¶ 3) below page 29

(3) State Court

(a) Accountability (?): state courts would have to take responsibility for their interoperation of federal laws

(b) Administratively easier (more venues)

(c) Removal problem (federal courts might be forum)

ii) Model #2 -- with Federal Review of Civil rights issues, we are progressing to model #2 which started in the 1960s

(1) US Supreme Court

(2) State goes directly to the Supreme Court or Federal Courts goes directly to the Supreme Court

iii) Model #3 -- minimalist model

(1) No federal courts -- state courts reviewed only by Supreme Court in federal issues

c) Ability of Congress to limit jurisdiction of federal courts

i) Supreme Court

(1) Supreme Court held that provided that there was some opportunity for review (without permission of other courts) that preclusion of review was possible⁶

(a) Cf Madisonian view that only the SC will have jurisdiction over state decisions

(b) Madisonian believed that political pressures on state government would not come from other branches of state government

(2) "exceptions and regulations" language of Constitution will does not eliminate trial by jury⁷

(3) in giving appellate jurisdiction to SC, there will be no abolition of trial by jury⁸

(4) Language of statute (§ 25): states that there needs to be a Federal controversy in order for the SC to review a statute

⁶ Fekler

⁷ Federalist Paper 81

⁸ Federalist Paper 81

- 79 (a) One can interpret the real question at issue as being 80 so narrowly a federal issue that the issue is really one 81 of state law and that the real question at issue is 82 really one of state law, and the SC is really giving an 83 advisory opinion⁹
 84 (b) But, if the federal treaty is burdened by the 85 interpretation of state law, then the SC can review
 86 (i) Federal treaty construction that is drawn into 87 question can be heard by the SC, even if based 88 on state law¹⁰
 89 (5) Language of Article 3: SC shall have appellate
 90 jurisdiction, both as to Law and Fact, with such Exception
 91 and under such Regulation as the Congress shall make - 92 -proponents argue that this is an important check on 93 judicial power¹¹
 94 (a) Pro-stripping
 95 (i) Policy: check on court's authority¹² based on 96 assumption that Democracy is based on majority
 97 rule
 98 (ii) Textual pro-strippers argue that this is a way
 99 allows specific strips of jurisdiction
 100 1. under the Judiciary Act, the SC could only 101 here cases that had gone to the state's 102 highest court
 103 2. only in the 1914 did the SC get the power to 104 review decisions of a state court that ruled in 105 favor of a constitutional right
 106 (iii) presidential pro-strippers
 107 1. there are direct and indirect exceptions to SC
 108 review (from McCordle)

⁹ Martin v. Hunters
¹⁰

Name	Martin v. Hunters Lessee, page 495
Facts	Recent Treaty held seized after certain date could be devised to alien. Plaintiff therefore should get land. If the land was not in use, it escheated to the state. State law question of when title vested. This is not a federal question, therefore
Holding	Federal right (treaty) turns on the application of state law. Constitution vests the entire judicial power in one branch.

¹¹ Perry

¹² Prof Michael Perry

- 109 (a) Direct exception: Congress passes a 110 statute excepting
 111 b. Indirect exception: by negative
 112 implication: For example "there are two 113 things that the Supreme Court can hear
 114 #1 and # 2.". This means that they can't 115 here #3.¹³
 116 i. there must be some route to get to 117 the Supreme Court – whether via 118 direct habeas appeal or not -- see
 119 habeas ¶ 3) below page 29
 120 Framers saw that an appeal to the 121 Supreme Court was more important
 122 for Supremacy clauses than for 123 uniformity. (Article 3 speaks to an 124 independent court)
 125 iii. Note: this is different with state court, 126 where it is presumed that for most 127 acts (Habeas excepted) a course of 128 action will exist in state court.¹⁴ -- see 129 habeas ¶ 3) below page 29

13

Name	Ex Parte McCordle (1869)
Facts	Habeas case where a newspaperman was put in jail as a federal prisoner and he was trying to get to the Supreme Court, but in the middle of his case, Congress took away federal court power to get review. There was jurisdiction for federal court to review detention by state and local authority. While the case was pending, Congress removed appellate jurisdiction.
Holding	Congress can make exceptions to the Supreme Court's jurisdiction. SC can hear everything, unless congress makes an constitutional exception Lower Courts can hear nothing unless given specifically by congress. This is an indirect forum of Congress taking away Supreme Court power. Even without jurisdiction, Petitioner still had other appeals route
Note

¹⁴ Tagglin

- 130
131
132
133
134
135
136
137
138
139
140
141
142
143
144
145
146
147
148
149
150 151
152
153
154 155
156
157
158
2. In a worst case scenario, if there are two grounds for SC repeal, Congress can repeal one of them¹⁵
 - a. Any continuing basis for SC review, no matter how unlikely is sufficient to render any other provision constitutional¹⁶
 3. There may be Constitutional jurisdiction strips (i.e. strips that don't deprive people of property, or infringe upon the other constitutional functions)
 - (i) anti-stripping
 1. stripping won't actually change substantive rights, because precedents remain in place, effectively freezing law
 2. stripping might be an invitation to legislatures contravene SC doctrine
 3. Congress can't use its power to contravene things that violate other Constitutional provisions
 - (ii) textual anti-strippers argue that the word "exceptions" only modifies the word "fact"
 - (iii) theorists: although Congress has the power to limit the SC power, like all constitutional powers, it can't be anti-constitutional
 1. McCardle is distinguished in that there was still a means of SC review
 2. Congress cannot direct nor adjudicate results in particular cases¹⁷

- (iv) Orthodox view: SC is final articulator of state law, but if the states are left to follow federal law with no appeals process then there is no incentive for the states to follow federal law¹⁸ -- and there may need to be oversight as to whether or the states are sabotaging federal law (antecedent state law doctrine)
1. Note: Federal court will give preclusive effect to state court¹⁹ and State administrative procedures of a judicial nature²⁰ -- note, when bringing a title 7 issue, an unreviewed decision will not be given preclusive effect as to its facts.²¹
 2. If state courts violate due process de novo review possible
 3. State determination will be given the same preclusive effect as state law would grant

Facts	Congress directed court to view a presidential pardon as evidence of anti-American activities. This could have been restricting the effective power of presidential pardons. Could also have been depriving people of a vested property right without due process.
Holding	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Congress can't tell courts how to adjudicate. However, Congress can create exceptions • Congress can't interfere with executive function

¹⁸ Justice Story in Martin v. Hunter's Lessee
¹⁹ Younger
²⁰ Migra
²¹

Name	Univ of TN v. Elliot page 1498
Facts	ALJ determination that dismissed state employee not fired discriminatorily. Brought action in federal court to appeal under title 7.
Holding	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • No § 1738 full faith and credit (§ 1738 was before administrative agencies). • But the possibility of fashioning common law preclusive remedies exists. • § 1983 actions will give preclusive effect to fact-finding by state administrative agencies acting in judicial capacity.

¹⁵

Name	Ex Parte Yerger (1869)
Facts	Habeas case where a released newspaperman challenged the underlying reconstruction statute. Charges were dismissed before review.
Holding	SC held that it did have jurisdiction, but was mooted.

¹⁶ Felker
¹⁷

Name	US v. Klein
-------------	-------------

176 them in § 1983 actions²² -- will remit to states
 177 if necessary to see preclusive effect²³ -- cf
 178 other view that there should be an issue by 179 issue inquiry
 180
 181 (v) Common sense: too much stripping would result 182 in state jurisdiction, and we wouldn't want that, 183 now would we?
 184 1. State court retain the power, to investigate if 185 there is a constitutional deprivation is going to 186 take place because of some state court
 187 jurisdictional problem, it can pass on the 188 merits of the litigants claims, then the state
 189 court can pass on the merits of the litigants
 190 Congress doesn't have the power to prevent 191 state courts of general jurisdiction from 192 passing on the constitutionality of any 193 attempts to take away its jurisdiction whether 194 by congress, or by state legislatures
 195 a. If it is unconstitutional it can disregard 196 the statute and do what it thinks under 197 the constitution
 198 b. In contrast, congress can prevent federal 199 courts from doing it
 200 3. If a constitutional deprivation is going to take 201 place because of some state court
 202 jurisdictional problem, it can pass on the
 203 merits of the litigants claims 204 a. State courts have the power to investigate whether or not Congress is 205 trying to "shut them down" -- on 206 jurisdiction or remedies.

 207 If there is a constitutional deprivation, then 208 the state court can pass on the merits of the 209 litigant's claim, regardless of whether 210 congress tries to stop them, and the federal 211 court can say that Congress has gone to far
 212 if it is unconstitutional it can disregard the 213 statute and do what it thinks under the 214 constitution
 215 6. Severability may bring issues into state court, 216 but provides a common sense reason for the 217 federal courts to hear them: this could raise
 218 issues of justiciability when severance starts
 219 to interfere with whether or not something is a 220 political question (could invalidate the entire 221 statute)

- a. severability: (not constitutional) if it is going to turn out that the Plaintiff is going to be able to go into a state court, and have the merits of claim heard, then he has a good common sense (not constitutional) way to get into federal court:
- b. if one cannot be prevented from litigating in the state court, than Congress didn't intend for this whole jurisdictional withdrawing statute to take in effect, in part
- c. (it could be argued) It goes against our common sense understanding, when there is a constitutional challenge as to whether or not the merits of that statute are legitimate, as in the emergency price control act, and it shut the federal and state courts from hearing that claim -- where you will be able to get a hearing on the substantive argument, structurally where you can go, is the state courts
 - i. congress has more power to shut the federal court doors, than it does to shut the state court doors
- d. one is going with their substantive claim into the state court

From <http://case.tm>

²²

Name	Kremer page 1493
Facts	State agency determination appealed unsuccessfully to state courts (finding that administrative agency decision was not arbitrary and capricious), before filing with federal administrative agency. Filed in district court.
Holding	State court's rejection of appeal was preclusive to same weight it would be in state courts.
Dissent	Appeal to state court was not on its merits.

²³ Maurice

249 i. at this point – you might want to say
 250 that the federal jurisdiction
 251 withdrawal is appropriate, but one
 252 also understands that from a
 253 common sense prospect, that if some 254 court is going to pass on the 255 substantive merits of this act,
 256 including the withdrawal of 257 interlocutory relief – don't you think 258 that Congress would have wanted to 259 here it, than if so then don't invoke
 260 severability

261 (6) Enhancing: Marbury is usually read as establishing that 262 Congress can't enlarge SC's jurisdiction (ie Article III is 263 the ceiling of the SC's original jurisdiction)

264 (7) There may be a danger of the SC reviewing state law 265 issues, in such a way that it is just issuing an advisory 266 opinion

267 ii) Lower Article III courts: Under the " (i) All restrictions are 268 made by congress (entirely under the "Great Madisonian 269 Compromise" is defined as congress has the power to create 270 lower federal power to create lower federal courts with less
 271 than the all of the powers.²⁴ However, only the outer limits
 272 were there. Congress has discretion to vest whatever power it 273 wants in the lower federal courts, and it has never vested full 274 article 3 power in the lower federal courts.

286 (a) The complete diversity requirement is an 287 interpretation of what is found in the constitution²⁷
 288 Article three does not specify if judicial powers should 289 be in federal or state court anyway
 290 (i) Power of congress to decide not to create lower 291 federal courts implies a real and important limit on 292 its power to restrict state courts from hearing in 293 federal claims -- state courts must be lurking in 294 the shadows in case Congress gets lazy
 295 Since Congress has the discretion as to whether or 296 not to establish the courts, it can control their 297 jurisdiction

298 (i) Congress may limit jurisdiction of a lower federal 299 court (for example no more cases can be brought 300 in: "no Supreme Court jurisdiction over prayer in 301 schools" might really be viewed be "substantially 302 a first amendment issues in the federal court", 303 which is a federal question. So, a political 304 question becomes a federal question²⁸
 305 (ii) "political truth is that the disposable political 306 power belongs to Congress"²⁹
 307 (iii) Federal Court can be precluded from enjoining a 308 state court action³⁰: so, specific powers must be 309 granted to the courts by Congress³¹
 310 1. (this could be a theory of state law last resort)

27 Stawbridge
 28

Name	Sheldon v. Sills
Facts	Federal Court faced with whether it had jurisdiction over a non-diverse case resulting from the assignment of a debt (where only the assignee was diverse.) Judiciary act prohibited diversity jurisdiction based on assigned debt, and this was challenged as being unconstitutional.
Holding	No jurisdiction because not a diversity case, and Congress restricted the federal courts to hearing diversity issues.

29 Sheldon
 30 Kline v. Burke
 31 Kline v. Burke

24 One side said that federal court creation should be mandatory, and the other side was that no federal courts except for supreme court review of state court judgements.
 25 Gordon Young
 26 Charles Rice

(d) there is nothing in the constitution which requires Congress to confer equity jurisdiction on the lower courts³²

(i) Jurisdiction with a string is prohibited: In a criminal case, Congress can't invoke the legitimacy of the federal court, and tell people that they can't hear the constitutional claim. However, constitutional challenges have to be raised in initial proceeding. This question must be raised in that first criminal enforcement proceeding.³³

1. If Congress gives the court the power to rule on a case, then they cannot preclude them from reviewing the constitutionality of that case -- once a court has been asked to take jurisdiction, they must also consider the whole constitution. But, one must plead, initially otherwise known as "greater power doesn't necessarily include the lesser power": Congress can't grant selective non-constitutional jurisdiction

(iii) Note, in Tarble's theories think that in an issue of releasing a prisoner, some forum has to exist somewhere.

(iv) Two views of constitutional restraint

- Constitutional interpretation: Tarble's is not a constitutional restraint, it is only a constitutional interpretation. -- Then it falls the a void, the federal courts are shut, and there is no jurisdiction, and therefore we are in state court.
- Constitutional restraint: Other view: (tale wagging the dog view) they argue that

322
323
324
325
326
327
328
329
330
331
332
333
334
335
336
337
338
339
340
341
342

Name	Lockerty (1943)
Facts	During WWII a group of meat dealers sought to challenge the statute that prevented them from challenge the regulation in district court. They had not exhausted their administrative remedies. Because there was exclusive jurisdiction given to an article III court.
Holding	Once an article 3 court has been asked to take jurisdiction, it must also consider the entire constitution. Seprability : sever an invalid part and keep the rest. Not all statutes are severable. -- This implies that judge feels that there is something with the statute. (Later Yakus says so as well.)
Note	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Once an article 3 court has been asked to take jurisdiction, it must also consider the entire constitution. Seprability: sever an invalid part and keep the rest. Not all statutes are severable. -- This implies that judge feels that there is something with the statute. (Later Yakus says so as well.) Yakus and Lockerty may come to different results, partially because Rutlage and Stone disagree about the merits of whether or not emergency procedures are properly followed by Congress in each situation

311
312
313
314 315
316
317
318
319
320
321

Name	Yakus
Facts	Federal District Court criminal proceeding brought for violating price control act. Court could only here things as they relate to the statute, and not constitutional issue.
Holding	Federal district court must hear constitutional implication, and no authority or body can intervene to force the judicial body to disregard it. The legislature was really depriving people of a right to trial by jury. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Note: Still had to exercise remedies in price control court and raise constitutional issues Yakus and Lockerty may come to different results, partially because Rutlage and Stone disagree about the merits of whether or not emergency procedures are properly followed by Congress in each situation

343 Tarbles isn't interpretation, it is constitutional,
 344 and the state courts are disabled from issuing 345 writs of Habeas, and we have no where to 346 go, and they argue that Congress, in fact, is 347 limited in how far in can go in taking 348 jurisdiction -- see habeas ¶ 3 below page 29
 349 jurisdiction requirement for some federal courts: The 350 Constitution requires that I make you and put the whole
 351 judicial power somewhere anything else would be
 352 stripping
 353 (a) There are some cases that can't be heard by state
 354 courts, and can't be heard in the SC with original 355 jurisdiction, so, lower federal courts must exist or 356 there would be no tribunal³⁴
 357 (i) Supreme court precedent may make it impossible
 358 for certain writs of mandamus to be obtained.
 359 This may be based on the faulty reading of 360 Marbury that Congress can't expand the SC's
 361 original jurisdiction
 362 (b) If no court at all existed to hear Habeas petitions, that 363 SC must here it.³⁵ (i.e. state courts can't hear federal 364 Habeas pleas)³⁶ -- but most circumstances where 365 this situation would exist would be unconstitutional
 366 anyway, so if state courts are closed, Federal courts
 367 must hear -- see habeas ¶ 3 below page 29
 368 (c) Textual approach: the word "all" is included in the 369 sections relating to "Admiralty" and "Ambassadors"
 370 but the word "all" is not used to define the courts
 371 power to adjudicate other (enumerated) matters³⁷ --
 372 claimed not to be supported by history³⁸
 373 (d) Framers intent: Framers intended some federal court
 374 to hear originally or on appeal every claim³⁹
 375 (i) Sources of framers' intent
 376 1. Federalist papers (Public article to persuade 377 the people to take on the constitutional)

³⁴ Justice Story in Martin v. Hunter's Lessee

³⁵ Eisentrager: Habeas Plea from person imprisoned by American military in Germany. Note: Habeas petitions are substantively linked to jurisdiction of a state court.

³⁶ Tarble's Case

³⁷ Professor Amar

³⁸ Professor Meltzer

³⁹ Professor Eisenberg

378 2. Constitution
 379 3. Delegates notes
 380 4. First judiciary act
 381 (e) Theory: Federal Courts must always exist to keep the 382 state courts in check⁴⁰
 383 (4) Specific Constitutional Limits: I can't restrict your 384 jurisdiction in a way that violates other constitutional
 385 provisions
 386 (a) Can't restrict in a manner that would violate due
 387 process
 388 (b) Foreclosure of deprivation of vested rights to new 389 property is unconstitutional⁴¹
 390 (c) Where defects in administrative proceeding foreclose
 391 judicial review, and alternative means of obtaining 392 review must be main available^{42,43}
 393 (i) cf other view that there should be an issue by 394 issue inquiry
 395 (d) Once an article 3 court has jurisdiction, it must 396 consider the entire constitutional issue
 397 (5) Limits on remedies still unresolved
 398 (6) Congressional power to enlarge jurisdiction of Federal 399 Courts beyond scope of article III
 400 Article I Courts: Congress made it out of thin air, and it can't 401 give-it any more power than it has
 402 (1) Power
 403 (a) A court that is the creature of congress, wholly and 404 completely, it can only do what Congress has the 405 power to do
 406 (b) Fact finding
 407 (i) Article one courts can do fact finding for article 3
 408 courts
 409 (2) Review There can be judicial review of wholly legislative 410 creations
 411 (3) stripping
 412 (a) Just serves at the pleasure of congress (for example 413 ALJ case)
 414 d) State court concurrent jurisdiction over federal issues: state courts 415 power predates constitution and it was never taken away from 416 them.

⁴⁰ Professor Sager

⁴¹ Johnson v. robinson

⁴² Mendoza- Lopez

⁴³ TN v. Elliot

- 417 i) Note: Under Allen state courts decisions will be given 418 preclusive effect⁴⁴ as will state administrative proceedings of 419 a judicial nature^{45,46}
- 420 ii) Article 3 doesn't say whether the stuff-enumerated powers in 421 it should reside in state or federal courts, anyway.
- 422 iii) Problems with forcing federal questions on the state courts
- 423 (1) Might impede SC review
- 424 (2) Would the choice of law impact the finding of fact
- 425 (3) Rights burdening:
- 426 (a) Shifting back between state and federal courts for 427 interpretation delays enforcement of the federal right
- 428 (b) These counterargument concern the crushing
 429 caseloads already burdening the state judiciaries
- 430 (c) the risk of inadequate adjudication of federal rights in 431 state courts.
- 432 (i) States may have a "neutral door-closing policy"
 433 which precludes certain remedies.⁴⁷ -- "valid 434 excuse doctrine"
- 435 (ii) States may it impractical to bring an action in 436 state court
- 437 1. Could be a Goldberg v. Kelley issue
- 438 a. There is still the question of whether or 439 not constitutional rights are exportable
 440 with Americans
- 441 2. State statutes of limitations and notice of 442 claim statutes may be held to be 443 burdensome⁴⁸

44 Allen
 45 Migra
 46 TN v. Elliot
 47 Testa
 48

Name	Felder v. Casey page 475, 487, 488, 827, 1123, 1229
Facts	State notice of claim statutes applied to state and federal law making claims against government valid only if filed in short period of time (120 days). Plaintiff was suing under § 1983.
Holding	120 statutes of limitations on claims against government was burdensome, and hence not applicable to claims against federal government.

- 444 (iii) Creation of a federal common law: usually 445 unclear whether Congress has taken and given 446 the power to make that law or not: Cases -- some 447 say that it comes from constitutional itself.
 448 Requires looking at the constitutionality of the 449 creation of the statute, not whether there is 450 authority from congress to create statute (check
 451 this, as this may compete with other models
- 452 1. Does federal government have the power:
 453 distinguished from Eerie: Eerie was about
 454 states having jurisdiction over their own issue
- 455 a. Explicit (jurisdiction might arise from just 456 alleging that something results from a rule 457 of federal common law)
- 458 i. Lincoln Mills: Congress wanted
 459 courts to develop federal common 460 law for labor disputes (by granting 461 jurisdiction)⁴⁹
- 462 ii. Admiralty: might not need to be a 463 jurisdictional grant
- 464 iii. Examples: 10b5. Tort law is not
- 465 iv. Habeas in constitution
- 466 v. Just compensation in constitution
- 467 b. Implicit (jurisdiction might arise from just 468 that something results from a rule of 469 federal common laws)
- 470 i. State v. state: might only be intuitive 471 that the courts use a federal common
 472 law, rather than federal courts
 473 applying state law⁵⁰ (question is there
 474 an inequity in that there is a problem
 475 of their rights to use state law)
- 476 ii. Private party v. private party: an 477 indirect drain on the treasury is 478 enough, and the US will ultimately 479 bear the cost of tort liability⁵¹;

From <http://case.tm>

49 Lincoln Mills (Dissent by Frankfurter is that it is purely a procedural question)
 50 Hinderlider
 51

497
498
499 500 501 502
503
504
505
506
507
508
509
510
511
512
513
514
515
516
517
518
519
520
521 522
523
524
525
526
527
528
529
530
531

- majority: case by case determination of whether it is an area for federal common law v. deference to congress necessary
- iii. Private party v. government: when dealing in an area which touches on government function there is a power to create federal common law
 - iv. Congressional silence might be a choice⁵², but it might be that a decision not to act should really be regarded as a negative choice
 - v. Creation of constitutional remedies is also the issue
2. Discretion
- a. Would ask what is so terrible about state law in the area⁵³

- i. Uniformity
- ii. Would state rule be contrary to federal interest
- iii. Creating access to lower federal courts
- b. Statutes of limitation: 1990: semi-solution, with 4 year sol on federal statutes, but it wasn't retrospective to new statutes
 - i. apply state law (no uniformity), but this is saying that there is a power, but a choice not to
 - ii. borrow from analogous federal law
 - iii. no statute of limitations (use laches)
 - iv. court created own sol (it is a contradiction to say that there is such things as a common law of sol)
- c. criteria
 - i. degree of conflict
 - ii. need for uniformity
 - iii. how much is it a rule that deals with judicial sensibility
- 3. state court creation of common law :
 - a. note: state legislatures have less control over state courts than congress does over federal
- 4. If Congress doesn't take some authority (for example tort law) that is given to it in the constitutional, then the courts can't make federal common law in this area -- note: there will be a difference between making common law and interpreting a statute
 - a. Majority: if procedural grounds are inadequate, they may be making up a federal common law

From <http://case.tm>

480
481
482
483
484
485
486
487
488
489
490
491
492 493
494
495
496

Facts	Son killed in helicopter crash under government contract. Defendant claims should be adjudicated under federal law
Holding	Even an indirect drain on treasury should be treated as one, and the citizenry will ultimately have to bear the cost of tort liability
Dissent	Court should defer to congress as to whether or not contractors are covered under federal law. Congress should do something so that it can know which body it should apply.

⁵² Dissent in Bivens
⁵³

Holding
Negotiable instruments issued by the federal government are governed under a federal common law. Applying state law rules would subject the federal government to uncertainty.

Name	Clearfield Trust	Page	621
Facts	Endorsement forgery problem of a check issued by the federal government. Difference in the way it would be handled under federal and state law.

- 532 i. If there is no ability of the SC to force 533 its doctrines on the states, than the 534 creation of a federal common law is a
 535 way to reach the merits of an issue
 536 ii. Could understand that these things
 537 are rules shaping the jurisdictional
 538 ambit
 539 iii. It could be that this is only a body of 540 law for the SC
 541 iv. Disputes of what would normally
 542 constitute a state law issue between 543 states (ie property) would be settled
 544 by a federal common law⁵⁴
 545 b. Minority: Federal Common law
 546 forfeitures: don't even need precedent: –
 547 SC doctrines of (cause, procedure, etc.)
 548 are develop a federal common law of 549 forfeitures. There is a coherent doctrine
 550 than it applies just as much in the state
 551 court as anywhere else
 552 5. State's common law definitions may make it 553 impossible, to fulfil a right, in which case the 554 federal court is doesn't need to use state
 555 law⁵⁵
 556 a. If Congress federalized the area it can 557 make up its own law
 558 b. Can use analogous federal statute
 559 c. Can borrow state law
 560 d. State Procedure will govern who decides 561 issues:

⁵⁴ Hinderleiter
⁵⁵

Name	Dice (illiterate rr worker)
Facts	FELA claim was waived by a release that under state law may have been fraudulently induced.
Holding	Federal Common law will be created, especially when Congress has federalized the area
Dissent	State is under no duty to treat its common law claims differently because there is a similar federal right

- 562 i. ie Issues of law (including equitable 563 issues) will be given to judges to 564 decide in federal court
 565 ii. but in some states to juries unless 566 there is a federal right to a jury, for 567 example
 568 iii. Must go to every amendment to see 569 whether or not it applies to states to 570 see if the right to trial by jury is an 571 important part of federal policy
 572 6. If a state is adjudicating a federal issue, the 573 state may find itself creating federal common
 574 law
 575 7. Federal common law Remedies: quest for 576 looking to what remedies are adequate or 577 appropriate -- 4 views
 578 a. Using common law or equity for 579 remedies, the court must see what is 580 adequate or appropriate
 581 b. SC is telling the state court to come up 582 with adequate remedy (policing borders
 583 of state law remedies for constitutional 584 violations)
 585 c. Federal common law of remedies
 586 (attached to a federal right)⁵⁶
 587 d. A new common law remedy (for example
 588 fashioning a common law remedy of 589 refund)
 590 8. Procedure to use when creating federal 591 common law
 592 a. Depending on the nature of the remedy
 593 requested, the case might not be allowed
 594 into federal court, except on appeal
 595 i. Federal common law has a universal
 596 system of application
 597 ii. If federal common law is really 598 policing the states, than one can't get 599 into federal court on a federal 600 common law defense, because it
 601 does not fall within the court's "arising 602 under" jurisdiction (for example
 603 immunities are not cause of action)

From <http://case.tm>

- b. Federal common law will often be created when adequate and independent procedural grounds fail
- c. If states are going to regulate an area, that could be federalized (for example preempted) than they should be following Federal Procedures.⁵⁷ – Note: Federal court will give preclusive effect to state administrative proceedings of a judicial nature⁵⁸ in § 1983⁵⁹
- (d) 1960s view saw that Federal courts should enforce federal rights
- iv) pro-stripping of state courts:
 - (1) There may be a time when removal jurisdiction is necessary, such as when State Crimes are held against the Federal Government officer⁶⁰ or when a federal

- 620 employee is sued for operation of a motor vehicle⁶¹; but this could be contrary to the well-pleaded complaint rule, § 1738 and res judicata.
- 621 (a) Right to remove a case from state to federal courts is statutory, based on the will of Congress⁶²
- 622 (b) Usually only civil actions are removable including⁶³
- 623 (c) Jurisdiction is derivative -- if the court that removes it has no jurisdiction, the federal court doesn't acquire jurisdiction⁶⁴
- 624 (d) Removal based only on pleadings, not on amended pleadings⁶⁵
- 625 (e) Injunctions to preclude actions in other courts (anti-injunction act § 2283)
- 626 (i) Court first to acquire jurisdiction shall proceed -- without interference from other jurisdiction⁶⁶ --
- 627 (ii) Lower federal courts should not be used as appellate jurisdiction over state courts^{67,68}

Name	Ferc: 476, 490
Facts	MS failed to consider Statute's requirement to consider adoption of certain utility rate design.
Holding	If the state chooses to regulate in a combined federal-state area, then the state must not burden the Federalization by failing to follow the Federal Government's legislation. Hence, administrative agencies must not burden federal rights, either.
Dissent	Application of Testa to legislative power expands Testa. The power for states to chose legislation is a fundamental of sovereignty.

⁵⁸ Migra
⁵⁹ TN v. Elliot
⁶⁰

Name	TN v. Davis page 455
Facts	Tax collector shot a couple of moonshiners while trying to collect tax, and state court tried tax collector.
Holding	Federal removal jurisdiction possible (though this was not based on the Plaintiff's case in chief, as that was a state criminal law issue)

Problems	Post-judgment removal could be an end-run around res judicata and full faith and credit statute
-----------------	---

⁶¹ 28 USC 2679d
⁶² Gold-Washing and Water
⁶³ 28 USC 1441a
⁶⁴ Lambert Run Coal Company
⁶⁵ American Fire and Casualty
⁶⁶

Name	Klein v. Burke page 1185
Facts	Competing federal legal action at the same time as a state equity action.
Holding	Anti-injunction act 28 USC § 2283, allows in persona actions to be carried on by the first court to get jurisdiction. Courts created by the general government. Whenever a federal court issues an injunction against state proceedings, the first thing it needs to consider is whether the injunction would be unconstitutional to interfere with state proceeding.

637
638
639
640
641
642
643
644
645
646
647
648
649

(iii) Statutory Exceptions (tight construction)⁶⁹

1. Bankruptcy
 2. Removal⁷⁰
 3. Admiralty
 4. Interpleader
 5. habeas
- (iv) Common law exceptions
1. necessary in aid of the jurisdiction
 - a. In rem: it draws to the federal court the possession or control of the res – therefore it can defeat jurisdiction of state court (if it stands to irreparable harm⁷¹)
 - b. irreparable harm⁷¹

650
651
652
653 654
655
656
657 658
659
660 661
662
663
664 665
666

- c. In persona: rule is not applicable⁷² as it is probably not necessary
 - i. Note: a good deal of the time, this will have the same hypothetical effect as a federal appellate decision⁷³
 - d. If the state court had jurisdiction, a controversy over a question of personal liability doesn't involve to possession or control of a thing.
2. § 1983 is exception to anti-injunction act – provided that the petition satisfy equitable requirements⁷⁴
 - a. § 1983 suits will consider constitutional issues that the states decide to be settled⁷⁵
3. limits on ability of federal courts to issue injunctions

⁷¹ Black in Young v. Harris
⁷² Klein
⁷³ Atlantic rr
⁷⁴ Mitcham
⁷⁵

Procedure	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Attempt failed to get federal injunction, succeeded in getting state injunction. Meanwhile, federal court held that picketing was a constitutional right. Petition for rehearing denied in federal court. • State court refused to lift injunction • Federal court granted injunction staying enforcement of state law • affirmed by appellate (circuit) court
Facts	Question as to whether an earlier federal court decision is preclusive or not. If the federal court dismissed on procedural grounds, than it could be heard again. If it was on the merits, than it has the right to have an injunction.
Holding	Lower courts federal courts should not grant injunctions if they are overseeing in an appellate fashion the lower courts. If the federal court ruled on the merits, than its decision should be upheld on the merits if necessary. If the federal court dismissed the case on procedural grounds, than the state court should be free to hear the matter.
Dissent

⁶⁸ Federalist paper 82
⁶⁹ Atlantic Coast rr line
⁷⁰ Mitcham; Dietzsch v. Huidekoper

Name	Allen v. McCurry (page 1484)
Facts	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Defendant raised constitutional claims at pretrial suppression hearing, but failed to litigate 5th amendment claim at trial • Was barred under Powell from habeas. • Suit was against police officers, who wanted to use the state court's partial rejection of Defendant's constitutional rights. • Police defendants claimed that he was barred from bringing the claim, since it was partially rejected. • McCurry claimed that the unavailability of Habeas prevented the police from raising collateral estoppel as a shield.
Holding	Res judicata will apply even though the earlier court was a state court. There is no reason not to trust the state courts.
Dissent	The defendant is an involuntary litigant in criminal proceedings, and also risks waiving his constitutional claims at trial

- 667
668
669
670
671
672
673
674
675
676
677
678
679
680
681
682
683
684
685
686
687
688
689
690
- a. federalism (our federalism): system in which there is sensitivity to the legitimate interests of both state and national government, and in which the national government, anxious though it may be to vindicate and protect federal right and federal intents, always endeavors to do so in ways that will not unduly interfere with the legitimate activities of the states.⁷⁶
 - b. equity: whether there is, or is not, an available remedy at law available
 - c. Comity
 - i. Still needs to be respect for state judges
 - d. irreparable harm⁷⁷
 - i. for example federal defense can't be raised in state court⁷⁸
 4. government can enjoined other parties⁷⁹
 5. prior to beginning actions⁸⁰
 6. no-judicial (administrative proceedings)⁸¹⁸² ⁸³
 7. Declaratory judgement⁸⁴
- (v) Abstention doctrine: Abstaining from hearing cases on equitable grounds⁸⁵

⁷⁶ Black in Younger v. Harris

⁷⁷ Black in Young v. Harris

⁷⁸ Gerstein v. Pugh

⁷⁹ Leiter Minerals v. US

⁸⁰ ex-parte young

⁸¹ Prentis

⁸² Gibson v. Berryhill

⁸³ TN v. Elliot

⁸⁴ Thiokol

⁸⁵

Name	Pullman
Facts	Racial discrimination on railway line that was by state administrative proceeding. Claimed that order was unconstitutional.
Holding	Abstained, if a definitive issue on the state issue would terminate the controversy. If an unnecessary decision would be made, it is better to abstain.

- 691
692
693
694
695
696
697 698
699
700
701
702
703
704
705
706
707
708
709 710
711
712
713
714
715
716
717
718
1. Court can, in the interests of develop a better state law, and comity, allow a state court to rule on an issue on its legal merits – rather than granting federal injunctive relief – and may look at social factors (reading the social fabric)
 - (f) In modern times federal equitable relief is generally not available⁸⁶ -- law is based on criminal not civil
 - (i) Reasoning
 1. Injunctions are extraordinary relief
 - a. For example if the federal and state courts were unified, an injunction would be asking for an equitable relief when a legal one is available
 - b. Citizens are expected to have to deal with incarceration during trial⁸⁷
 2. Declaration v. injunction
 - a. Injunction requires a showing of irreparable injury
 - b. Declaration
 - i. Really a precedent, as doesn't have RJ effect
 3. Pending v. non-pending (this is the deep tension between the right, and the risk people need to take to preserve it)
 - a. Pending: Definition of pending⁸⁸: after the federal complain is filed but before any proceeds of substance (which,

⁸⁶ Younger

⁸⁷ Younger

⁸⁸

Name	Hicks page 1291
Facts	Seizure of deep throat. Movie theatre owners do not defend in state court and go to federal court.
Holding	Owners had to go to federal Court.
Dissent	State can avoid defending federal suits by filing quickly in state courts. This may give the states leeway.

719
720
721
722
723
724 725
726
727
728 729
730
731
732
733 734
735
736 737 738
739
740
741
742 according to Hicks has to be quite a lot of proceeding of substance on the merits) in the merits have taken place⁸⁹ -- this rule has the effect of making the state handle the federal issues in a timely fashion

i. has to be quite a lot of proceeding of substance on the merits⁹⁰
ii. Pending actions would require an affirmative action by another court to take jurisdiction
iii. State cannot move in any way at all
iv. Can deal with Dombrowski bad faith harassment
v. Declarations are not available against pending state criminal proceedings⁹¹ (they are not as intrusive as injunctions)⁹²
vi. Preliminary injunction: proceeding of substance on the merits⁹³ filed in federal court against state prosecutor (leaves little time to file injunction)
vii. Actions on appeal cannot be enjoined (SC review possible) if exhausted⁹⁴

⁸⁹ Hicks
⁹⁰ Hicks
⁹¹ Samuels v. Mackell
⁹²

Name	Doran v. Salem Inn
Facts	Law against topless dancing enforced against three topless bar owners. Three bars sought declaration in federal court saying topless dancing ok. 1 of the three bars.
Holding	Preliminary injunctive relief granted to all who abided by the order, but not the one who continued.

⁹³ Hawaii Housing Authority
⁹⁴ Huffman

743
744 745
746
747 748
749
750
751
752
753
754
755
756 757
758
759
760
761
762
763 764
765
766
767
768
769
770
771
772
773
774
775
776 777

viii. Wooley: State prosecution pending when federal suit was filed⁹⁵
b. Non-pending
i. Preliminary injunction: proceeding of substance on the merits⁹⁶ filed in federal court against state prosecutor (leaves little time to file injunction)
ii. Permanent injunction: in exceptional circumstances a federal court will grant a permanent injunction to state action⁹⁷
iii. No requirement for one court to wrest jurisdiction from another
iv. Equity, comity does apply (though Younger may be a rhetorical snowjob)
v. There is a tension between Mitcham and Younger about whether or not state judges are the equivalent of federal judge and vice-versa. If they are, than an equitable decree issued by a federal judge is an affront to federalism. -- there is debate as to whether Younger is constitutional or procedural, but most see it as procedural.
vi. federalism do not apply
4. Criminal v. civil
a. Contempt: If the state parties are private litigants, Younger will apply⁹⁸
b. Enforcement of bond requirement as well⁹⁹
c. Open issue for civil cases
d. If the state is the Plaintiff, and it is criminal in character, refer to Younger

From <http://case.tm>

⁹⁵ Wooley
⁹⁶ Hawaii Housing Authority
⁹⁷ Wooley
⁹⁸ Juidice
⁹⁹ Pennzoil

- 778 abstention¹⁰⁰ -- later expanded to all in 779 which the state is a party¹⁰¹
 780 e. If it is a suit to review, there is no
 781 abstention¹⁰²
 782 f.
 783 5. Creation of a mere chilling effect will place a
 784 burden on the state courts
 785 6. There is no real threat to the 1st
 786 amendment¹⁰³
 787 7. Request for monetary relief in federal court
 788 against state court proceedings: Younger
 789 might not apply, but still open questions

¹⁰⁰ Huffman

¹⁰¹ Trainor

¹⁰² Nopsi

¹⁰³

Name	Younger (Criminal case)
Facts	Question of whether a federal court should enjoin prosecution of someone from distributing communist leaflets. Intervenor brought suit in that they were similarly situated or they would face legal uncertainty. State defendant as Plaintiff Federal court as a Plaintiff and asks for an injunction to halt a pending criminal proceeding on the grounds that the statute is unconstitutional on its face
Holding	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Federal injunction not granted. There was no real, or articulated violation of constitutional rights at stake. Nor was bad faith prosecution alleged. i. • Any proceeding that is in aid of a criminal statute (even though technically civil) is deemed to be in the aid of younger • Note: Younger abstention is not based on anti-injunction act. • If the Plaintiff wants to bring action again in state court, can reserve their Federal claims under England v. Medical examiners.

- (ii) Exceptions (these exceptions evince a tension between requiring people to risk one's freedom for a constitutional right, and having to forego that freedom forever)
1. Repeated bad faith prosecutions (criminal case)
 - a. If someone has declaratory ruling from federal court this can be prima facie bad faith
 2. Patent unconstitutional state statute (criminal case)
 3. Futility: it may be that if the prior decisional law, on circumstances similar to the instant indicates that the action has only one conclusion to it, that you might be able to try to get into the federal court doors on the grounds that it is futile
 4. Procedurally inadequate state grounds for raising federal defense.
 5. Federal defense cannot be raised in state proceeding¹⁰⁴ (could be an unreasonable bail issue
 6. "chilling effect" of Dombrowski no longer available¹⁰⁵ as in Younger
 - a. enjoining overbroad statutes don't really accomplish anything – and state can't even have the chance to modify it
 - i. people are expected to be able to withstand criminal trials
 - b. Younger appears to draw bright lines based on policy, but when the policy decisions disappear
 7. State court for hearing federal cause of action is inadequate¹⁰⁶
- (g) Declaratory relief is available¹⁰⁷ -- no need to subject self to arrest to challenge

From <http://case.tm>

¹⁰⁴ Gerstein

¹⁰⁵ Younger v. Harris

¹⁰⁶ Gibson v. Barryhill (Administrative proceedings inadequate)

¹⁰⁷

- 826 (i) Violation of declaratory relief means bad faith
 827 (ii) Declarations may be less intrusive than 828 injunctions
 829 (iii) Declarations allow state to construe their law in a 830 constitutional manner
 831 (2) Times
 832 (a) Past: Federal court will res judicata to apply state
 833 court's ruling¹⁰⁸
 834 (b) Future: declaration
 835 (c) Continuing: probably can't get it
 836 (d) Present treated like future¹⁰⁹
 837 (3) There are some instances of exclusive grants to federal 838 courts
 839 (a) Anti-trust: no exclusive language explicitly in the 840 statute
 841 (b) State court can't grant Habeas to federal Prisoners¹¹⁰
 842 (as in most cases some forum exists) -- this might be

- 843 an implied grant of jurisdiction. One might need to 844 see an alternative federal remedy --
 845 (i) "Hidden shoal" in Federal Regulation: and 846 Woods argue that if all forums are excluded, than 847 it is unconstitutional
 848 (ii) State power to review federal government issues:
 849 if there is an implied grant of exclusive 850 jurisdiction, and federal review, then the federal 851 courts have exclusive jurisdiction.
 852 1. If congress strips away this jurisdiction, than 853 the states have this jurisdiction – it is 854 automatic, congress can't eliminate the 855 federal remedy, and the Plaintiff could go to 856 the state court. (So says Reddish)¹¹¹
 857 (4) if state courts are hearing federal actions there may be 858 disuniformity, even though there may be, from time to 859 time, standards articulated by federal courts

Facts	State prosecution threatened, question of whether a declaratory judgement is precluded.
Holding	Declaratory judgement with no action pending is not barred by anti-injunction act. They are not intrusive.

¹⁰⁸ Allen v. McCurray
¹⁰⁹ Willy
¹¹⁰

Name	Tarbles
Facts	Habeas petition by father in Michigan state court to get his son out of the military
Holding	State courts can't grant federal Habeas claims. State court claimed that it wasn't the concern of the state because it was <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Ranks of the army • State court's couldn't do it fast, as it would be appealed • Undermine federal policies • State court used a "spheres of power" language, but this language might not be constitutional, but just a references to a limitation on state power.

Name	Tarbles
Facts	Issue: Does the state court of MI have jurisdiction to hear habeas claims of federal detainees. Habeas petition by father in Michigan state court to get his son out of the military
Holding	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • State courts can't grant federal Habeas claims. • State court claimed that it wasn't the concern of the state because it was Ranks of the army • State court's couldn't do it fast, as it would be appealed • Undermine federal policies • State court used a "spheres of power" language, but this language might not be constitutional, but just a references to a limitation on state power. State court usage of the term "spheres of power" might actually be grounds for precluding parties from seeking review in a federal court, as it is not constitutional language.

v) anti-stripping: Power of congress to decide not to create lower federal courts implies a real and important limit on its power to restrict state courts from hearing federal claims -- state courts must be lurking in the shadows in case Congress gets lazy. Note: "deeply routed presumption in favor of concurrent jurisdiction"¹¹² -- there is no natural injunction between federal-state and state-federal

(1) examples of concurrent state-federal jurisdiction
 (a) RICO (would need explicit statutory directive that state courts could not hear"¹¹³)

(2) State court retain the power, to investigate if there is a constitutional deprivation is going to take place because of some state court jurisdictional problem, it can pass on the merits of the litigants claims, then the state court can pass on the merits of the litigants

(3) Congress doesn't have the power to prevent state courts of general jurisdiction from passing on the constitutionality of any attempts to take away its jurisdiction whether by congress, or by state legislatures

(a) If it is unconstitutional it can disregard the statute and do what it thinks under the constitution

(b) In contrast, congress can prevent federal courts from doing it

(4) If a constitutional deprivation is going to take place because of some state court jurisdictional problem, it can pass on the merits of the litigants claims

(a) State courts have the power to investigate whether or not Congress is trying to "shut them down" -- on jurisdiction or remedies.

(5) If there is a constitutional deprivation, than the state court can pass on the merits of the litigant's claim, regardless of whether congress tries to stop them, and the federal court can say that Congress has gone to far

(6) If it is unconstitutional it can disregard the statute and do what it thinks under the constitution

(7) Severability may bring issues into state court, but provides a common sense reason for the federal courts to hear them

(a) severability: (not constitutional) if it is going to turn out that the Plaintiff is going to be able to go into a state court, and have the merits of claim heard, than

he has a good common sense (not constitutional) way to get into federal court:

(b) if one cannot be prevented from litigating in the state court, than Congress didn't intend for this whole jurisdictional withdrawing statute to take in effect, in part

(c) (it could be argued) It goes against our common sense understanding, when there is a constitutional challenge as to whether or not the merits of that statute are legitimate, as in the emergency price control act, and it shut the federal and state courts from hearing that claim -- where you will be able to get a hearing on the substantive argument, structurally where you can go, is the state courts

(i) congress has more power to shut the federal court doors, than it does to shut the state court doors

(d) one is going with their substantive claim into the state court

(i) at this point -- you might want to say that the federal jurisdiction withdrawal is appropriate, but one also understands that from a common sense perspective, that if some court is going to pass on the substantive merits of this act, including the withdrawal of interlocutory relief -- don't you think that Congress would have wanted to here it, than if so then don't invoke severability

(6) State courts will be the ultimate guarantor of a constitutional right if the federal courts are precluded: the state courts have a general jurisdiction to fall back on¹¹⁴

(a) Yakus and Lockerdy may come to different results, partially because Rutlage and Stone disagree about the merits of whether or not emergency procedures are properly followed by Congress in each situation

(i) The merits of some situations, and the overall benefits, may, in some cases overwhelm the necessity of judicial review. This hasn't been tested.¹¹⁵

From <http://case.tm>

901
902
903
904
905 906
907
908 909 910
911
912
913
914
915
916
917
918
919
920
921
922
923 924
925
926
927
928
929
930
931
932
933
934
935
936
937
938

¹¹² Raffline
¹¹³ Tagglin

¹¹⁴ Prof Hart
¹¹⁵ Stone in Yakus (looking at Congress's actions on the merits).

939 (b) State power to adjudicate federal cause of actions:
 940 normal rule is that when a statute is silent, state and 941 federal courts have concurrent jurisdiction^{116,117}
 942 (i) Concurrent jurisdiction : state court will look to 943 congressional intent, and follow the common law
 944 of the federal court¹¹⁸
 945 1. Cf Anti-trust issues which are exclusively 946 federal.
 947 (9) 2nd Amendment and militias may be the final check on 948 Congress taking jurisdiction. This may be the tale
 949 wagging the dog.
 950 vi) Supreme Court Direct Review over state court decisions:
 951 constitution doesn't authorize the SC to review decisions of 952 state courts (for example it is unusual for one sovereign to 953 have jurisdiction over another). Note: we are unsure as to 954 whether Habeas standards are supposed to comport with 955 direct standards
 956 (1) Standard for appellate review of federal decisions (for 957 reference)
 958 (a) No excuse of a procedural default unless the error
 959 was plain¹¹⁹
 960 (b) Footnote which says that Habeas Standards are 961 supposed to be in parity with direct standards¹²⁰
 962 Standard of review
 963 (a) old: Storey seems to want "fresh review"¹²¹
 964 (b) new: fair support – if there is fair support than we 965 are not really worried that the state court has 966 prevented a federal right from coming to fruition
 967 (3) Statutory exceptions
 968 (a) Federal Officer removal (federal offices can remove, 969 as the states have conceded sovereignty)¹²² ;
 970 prosecution against any officer or agency or person
 971 acting under him for any act of such office¹²³ -- would

116 Claflin
 117 Charles Dowd Box
 118 Taflin
 119 FRCrim Proc 52(b)
 120 Reed v. Ross
 121 Storey in Martin v. Hunters
 122 TN v. Davis
 123 28 USC 1442

972 need to show all actions were in the scope of their 973 duty¹²⁴ exception to well-pleaded complaint rule
 974 (i) Requires that officer assert federal defense¹²⁵
 975 (b) Post-judgement civil rights removal for inability or 976 denial of rights in state court¹²⁶
 977 (i) Purpose:
 978 1. State courts usually trusted to protect federal 979 rights
 980 (ii) But, § 1983 can't be used to grant an immediate 981 release from prison¹²⁷ (certain claim must be 982 brought into exhaustion)
 983 1. There is no exhaustion requirement for 984 equitable relief¹²⁸
 985 a. Can't use if the ultimate issue is about 986 immediate release¹²⁹
 987 b. In 1983, state court ruling on 988 constitutional issues are res judicata.¹³⁰
 989 2. No need to exhaust state administrative¹³¹ or 990 judicial remedies¹³²
 991 3. Money damages require exhaustion¹³³
 992 (iii) Rights protected
 993 1. Usually only racial equality issues¹³⁴
 994 a. Pervasive and explicit state law that 995 denies racial equality¹³⁵ (for example
 996 whites only juries)¹³⁶
 997 b. State courts must have already
 998 considered the validity of the statute¹³⁷
 999 2. Federal law prohibits prosecution on certain 1000 grounds¹³⁸

124 Willingham v. Morgan
 125 Mesa v. CA
 126 28 USC 1443
 127 Preiser
 128 Patsy v. Board of Regents
 129 Preiser
 130 Allen
 131 TN v. Elliot
 132 Monroe
 133 Heck
 134 Rachel 135 Greenwood
 136 Stauder
 137 Gibson

From <http://case.tml>

1001 3. Illegal acts of state officials not included¹³⁹
 1002 (iv) remedies
 1003 1. Prisoner can't bring a § 1983 suit which 1004 would recover damages for a conviction
 1005 unless the conviction has been overturned on 1006 appeal or Habeas¹⁴⁰
 1007 (v) State court judgements have collateral estoppel 1008 effect in federal court (usually for civil 1009 judgements)¹⁴¹ -- dissent: this puts criminal
 1010 defendant in a bind
 1011 (vi) Appeal: Decisions to remove, and/or remand are 1012 both reviewable on appeal -- not true with basic 1013 removal statute¹⁴²
 1014 (c) If a 1983 claim will invalidate an existing state court
 1015 conviction of a 1983 Plaintiff, the 1983 claim will be 1016 subordinated to Habeas¹⁴³
 1017 (i) 1983 will consider state law determinations of 1018 constitutional fact to be res judicata – even if 1019 they could not have been relitigated by habeas 1020 (ii) 1983 will go along with § 1738, full faith and 1021 credit¹⁴⁴
 1022 (d) Habeas corpus (1867 act was a counterpart to post 1023 judgement civil rights removal) – is an exception to § 1024 § 1738 (Full faith and credit) and res judicata: there
 1025 are no system-wide determinations via Habeas¹⁴⁵
 1026 (i) Note: Habeas is granted to SC and lower 1027 courts¹⁴⁶
 1028 (ii) see habeas ¶ 3 below page 29
 1029 (4) Current common law: Review is now possible in any 1030 case where the validity of a treaty or statute of the Us is 1031 drawn in question or where the validity of a state statute
 1032 is drawn in question or where the validity of a state
 1033 statute is drawn in question on the grounds of its being 1034 repugnant to the Constitution, treaties or laws of the US, or where any title, right, privilege, or immunity is specifically set up or claim under the Constitution, treat, statutes of, or commission held or authority exercise under the US¹⁴⁷

- (a) General rules
 - (i) Question as to whether an issue can be deliberately bypassed (from Habeas Case)¹⁴⁸
 - (ii) SC will accept as binding upon it state court decisions of state law¹⁴⁹, provided they do not conflict with supremacy clause obligations
 - (iii) SC won't review a state decision at all of that decision rests on an adequate state ground¹⁵⁰
 - (iv) even if there are independent and adequate state grounds for a decision, the SC may still review (though this is getting close to an advisory opinion) because there are good policy reasons to look at it
 - 1. could be long-term, chilling presidential effects
 - (v) two views: there can always be a jurisprudentially argument of how the federal law influences the state law
 - 1. Old Murdock review: if adequate and independent grounds will just dismiss
 - 2. Fox Film (black letter view):¹⁵¹
 - a. policy reasons explain why it is a bad idea to just dismiss
 - b. As part of the courts initial decision it will decide whether it has jurisdiction to review, and may just dismiss for lack of jurisdiction
 - c. The Supreme Court has, in reviewing cases in which Federal Law was interpreted for the Plaintiff said that it comes close to an advisory opinion to rule of federal law.
- (vi) Opposition: Framers may have intended the SC to review state law questions¹⁵²

1035
1036
1037
1038 1039
1040
1041
1042
1043
1044
1045
1046
1047
1048
1049 1050 1051
1052 1053
1054
1055
1056
1057
1058 1059
1060
1061
1062
1063
1064
1065
1066
1067
1068
1069 1070
1071
1072

From <http://case.tn>

¹³⁸ Georgia
¹³⁹ Greenwood
¹⁴⁰ Heck v. Humphrey
¹⁴¹ Allen
¹⁴² 28 USC 1447d
¹⁴³ Preiser
¹⁴⁴ Allen
¹⁴⁵ Calderon
¹⁴⁶ 28 USC 2241a

¹⁴⁷ 28 USC A1257.3.
¹⁴⁸ Brown v. MS
¹⁴⁹ Murdock
¹⁵⁰ Murdock
¹⁵¹ check Fox films

(vii) Logical Antecedent is defined as when a federal right turns on a state right and is permissible subject of review by the SC.¹⁵³ -- and the court will look at the underlying state law issue, and possibly reverse.

1. Presumption: unless there is a clear statement that its decision was grounded on state law, the SC will review.¹⁵⁴
 2. Federal rights can often be based on state law concepts of property and contracts, which could trigger Supreme Court Review of state law -- if a federal right turns on a state right, than the state cannot be the last word on the state law
 - a. Antecedent state law doctrine: somehow the state courts are evading their federal law obligations
 3. Exercise of state police power (mentioned in Bran) may be counteracted by the contracts clause of the constitution¹⁵⁵
- (b) Ask state court to certify what its grounds were. Could be giving state courts an opportunity to insulate themselves from federal law
- (c) Final decision of highest state court needed to hear cases need (final decision liberally construed) (four categories)
- (i) Further proceedings yet to occur in state courts but for the federal issue is conclusive or the outcome of further proceedings preordained¹⁵⁶
 - (ii) Federal decision will require decision regardless of outcome of future state proceedings¹⁵⁷
 - (iii) Federal claim has been decided with further proceeding on the merits in the state courts to come, but in which later review of the federal issue cannot be had whatever the ultimate outcome of the case

(iv) Situations where the federal issue has been finally decide in the state courts with further proceedings pending in which the party seeking review here might prevail on the merits on nonfederal grounds, thus rendering unnecessary review of the federal issue by the court, and where reversal of the state court on the federal issue would be preclusive of any further litigation on the relevant cause of action rather than merely controlling the nature and character of, or determining the admissibility of evidence in the state proceedings still to come

(v) If defendant demurs to state law claim, saying that the claim is unconstitutional, and the highest court remands the case for trial. After that trial, and another look by the Appellate court (applying the law of the case) the SC will hear it.¹⁵⁸

1. Stevens said that when state courts rule in favor of a defendant, the point should be moot.¹⁵⁹; in fact the Supreme court should go back to the old $ 25 in which the SC couldn't take a case which the state court upheld
 2. Supremacy, rather than uniformity is at issue
 3. They have been given a license to try to interpret state constitutions in a way that is more expansive
 4. Could be an underlying motive to use this presumption of taking jurisdiction
- (d) Easy ways to tell the state court's grounds
- (i) Certification or amendment of judgment
 - (ii) SC will dismiss, since the party invoking the jurisdiction has the burden of proving federal jurisdiction
 - (iii) Vacate judgement below and remand so the state court can clarify
 - (iv) Continue the case so that it can give the parties an opportunity for clarification
 - (v) Can take jurisdiction
- (e) Adequate state Substantive grounds as grounds for lower court 's decisions

1109
1110
1111
1112
1113 1114
1115
1116
1117 1118
1119 1120
1121
1122 1123
1124
1125
1126
1127 1128 1129
1130
1131
1132
1133 1134 1135
1136 1137
1138
1139
1140
1141 1142 1143
1144
1145 1146
1147
1148
1149

¹⁵² Crosskey, qtd on p 519 fn 2

¹⁵³ Indiana v. Brand. Check this

¹⁵⁴ Mi v. Long

¹⁵⁵ Indiana v. Brant

¹⁵⁶ Cox

¹⁵⁷ Cox

¹⁵⁸ Hathorn v. Lovorn and Great western Tel

¹⁵⁹ Dissent in Michigan v. Long

From <http://case.tml>

- 1150 (i) Three methods of reasoning that may trigger SC
 1151 review of state court interpretations of state law
 1152 1. Citation by state supreme of an idiosyncratic
 1153 state law that is adequate and independent 1154 a. State courts can always claim that the 1155 state is binding authority
 1156 2. Cite a federal issue: analogizing from 1157 whatever sources people want
 1158 3. State law incorporated by references
 1159 a. In point of fact the SC doesn't usually 1160 hold that this is an adequate state ground
 1161 b. Where a state statute incorporate federal 1162 law by reference, the SC may review a
 1163 state court decision as to that statute,
 1164 pass on the federal question that is 1165 incorporated by reference and remand to 1166 state court to reconsider its interoperation 1167 of the state in like of the interoperation of 1168 underlying federal law¹⁶⁰
 1169 (ii) Will only be subject to review based on the 1170 supremacy clause
 1171 (iii) There may be unspoken remedies created in the 1172 constitution (such as in a Bivens action)
 1173 1. Constitutional torts: No constitutional right 1174 without a Remedy¹⁶¹ -- will look to existing 1175 remedies
 1176 (iv) Note: in criminal actions, there is no way to chose 1177 the forum
 1178 1. Easier to spot an overburdening of a federal 1179 right, as there is absolutely no way directly
 1180 into federal court
 1181 2. Couple be a state manipulation of procedure 1182 3. Exception: if the very act of bringing the 1183 defendant to trial in state court would be 1184 clearly predicted by reason of the operation
 1185 of a pervasive and explicit state or federal law
 1186 that those rights will inevitably be died¹⁶² --
 1187 but despite this removal right, doesn't mean
 1188 they can be commenced in Federal Court¹⁶³

- (v) Non-existence of state law remedy is grounds for review by SC.¹⁶⁴ Even if there may also be original federal jurisdiction as a constitutional tort.
 (f) Adequate state procedural grounds as grounds for lower court's decisions: Inadequate state ground rule: SC may look to see if the Procedure in the state is an example of "Meaningless form"¹⁶⁵ -- dissent accuses majority of reviewing every state law

se.
 Fro
 Pag

164

Name	Facts
Ward v. Love	Indian tribe, in treaty with the United States was granted a tax immunity together with a non-alienation of land clause. Provisions of treaty were inserted into state constitution. State turns around and takes away restrictions on alienation together with tax immunity. Indians pay taxes and sue. State court holds. In the past, the SC had held that the state was required to enjoin municipalities from interfering with a vested property right. This time, however, the remedy is refund, not enjoinderment
Holding	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Voluntary payment • No refund statute • Monies already disbursed • State statute of limitations precluded. Three ways to look at it <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • State court had few independent justifications, leading to SC review • Specific constitutional remedies to go along with constitutional rights. • Actual Bivens.

165

Name	Facts
Staub v. Baxley	Union People arrested for not getting a permit to recruit. Constitutionally challenged, state court dismissed complaint for not being specific.

¹⁶⁰ Standard Oil of CA

¹⁶¹ From Marbury

¹⁶² City of Greenwood, Johnson v. MS, Redish

¹⁶³ Martin v Wyzanski

- (i) SC will look to see if the rule is applied uniformly by the state (for example not a novel way) 1224
- (ii) if the federal issue is never raised (even in a manner that doesn't comport with state law) the court may lose jurisdiction altogether.¹⁶⁶ 1225
- (iii) change in state law: court will look to the law in effect at the time the action arose ¹⁶⁷ if there is seasonable notice of federal claim ¹⁶⁸ 1226
- 1. this could bring up a state sovereignty issue 1227
- (5) Adequate state procedural and substantive grounds for federal rights (not to be confused with independent and adequate grounds) 1228
- (a) Adequate state procedural grounds 1229
- (i) Note: courts have upheld failures to object as required by local procedure ¹⁶⁹ 1230
- 1. Contemporaneous objection serves a legitimate state interest ¹⁷⁰ 1231
- (ii) If the state procedural interest (for example judicial expediency) can be reached in another way, than the SC can grab the case and review – hence a two tier inquiry ¹⁷¹ 1232
- 1. Legitimate state procedural rule (as opposed to an arid ritual of meaningless forum) ¹⁷² 1233
- 2. Brennan says "if you could have satisfied the rule in some other way" – than it will serve the same purpose. if you can serve the 1234

- (iii) Every time the SC reaches beyond the state procedure to hear a federal substantive question, 1235
- 1. Could be a suspicion that the states are not acting honorably 1236
- 2. SC may find itself reviewing, on an ad hoc basis, the adequacy of state law remedies 1237
- (iv) Procedural differences between state and federal courts -- state courts can't discriminate against federal laws at least in circumstances where there would be similar claims that would be heard by the courts ¹⁷⁵ 1238
- 1. Any discrimination has to be based on a "neutral door closing policy" -- if that remedy exists in the state, it is not neutral - esp. if there is an explicit grant of concurrent jurisdiction (esp. if there is an explicit jurisdiction): Supremacy clause obligation 1239
- (v) State courts obligated to hear federal claims: "deeply routed presumption in favor of concurrent jurisdiction" ¹⁷⁶ 1240
- 1. State courts can't discriminate against federal claims ¹⁷⁷ 1241
- (vi) State procedural grounds for dismissing a case (ie notice of claim statutes) may on their face be 1242

Holding	State rule was meaningless function, and was applied in a novel way. Could have been dealt with by saying that procedure was inadequate grounds under the state constitution. Dissent (Frankfurter): Deciding whether the rule is annoying is a search for "meaningless form" and is really judging the effectiveness and quality of the statute.
----------------	---

¹⁶⁶ Cardinale
¹⁶⁷ Brinkerhoff-Faris Trust and Savings
¹⁶⁸ Herndon
¹⁶⁹ Henry v. MS
¹⁷⁰ Henry v. MS
¹⁷¹ Henry v. MS
¹⁷² Henry v. MS

¹⁷³ Henry v. MS
¹⁷⁴ Henry v. MS
¹⁷⁵

Name	Testa page 469
Facts	Rhode Island court refused to hear a federal claim for triple damages under the Emergency Price Control Act, but there were similar actions under RI law. There was concurrent jurisdiction.
Holding	If a similar claim or remedy exists under state law, than a state court must hear it.

¹⁷⁶ Raffline
¹⁷⁷ Mondou

From <http://case.tn>

1254 adequate, but are really so burdensome over a 1255 federal right that they are inadequate
 1256 1. Steps to analyze federal right (in a 1257 federalized area)
 1258 a. Existence of statute
 1259 b. Concurrent or exclusive jurisdiction
 1260 i. Might have to look to default or 1261 federal common law
 1262 c. Burdening of right: 5th amendment right
 1263 to be heard
 1264 i. Is state law discriminatory or not? --
 1265 ii. then apply federal procedure
 1266 iii. Is state procedure content neutral? --
 1267 in going to law or equity Is it content
 1268 neutral?
 1269 (vii) SC may be creating a federal procedural
 1270 common law (similar to Dice)
 1271 1. Federal courts needs authority to act (but 1272 some say that the federal courts don't even 1273 need to make these inquiries)
 1274 a. Explicitly given to federal courts
 1275 b. Federal right
 1276 c. Something exclusively federal (for 1277 example international relations) or 1278 congressional statutes
 1279 d. Constitutional tort -- Bivens actions
 1280 i. Where congress has not acted, but 1281 the constitutional grants a right
 1282 2. In a non-federalized area federal courts need 1283 to follow state law
 1284 (viii) Note: most failures to follow state procure
 1285 are really a failure on the part of counsel to follow
 1286 state procedure
 1287 (6) a lot of states grant review over "enhanced" Federal 1288 rights¹⁷⁸ and there is some discussion as to whether 1289 those decisions should be reviewable. Article 3 speaks of 1290 supplemental jurisdiction, which is jurisdiction over the 1291 whole case
 1292 (7) SC review over federal rights: seems to be only review of 1293 federal things (for example constitution or treaty when its 1294 construction by the state court) is drawn into question).
 1295 "Construction" seems to be applied broadly to mean

1296 "application"¹⁷⁹. Nevertheless, states will still have the last 1297 word on state law.¹⁸⁰
 1298 (8) When hearing a case in Diversity, the SC could review a 1299 decision of state law, but not when a purely state law
 1300 issues comes up from state court¹⁸¹. Court said that 1301 despite a change in the statute, it was not meant to limit
 1302 review to just the state courts.

- (a) SC review of state law questions would impair the 1303 development of states to develop their own law¹⁸² --
 1304 SC isn't going to reach out and decide a case of state
 1305 law
 1306 (i) Prohibition on review of moot cases
 1307 1. Under Murdock Review of state law questions 1308 was not necessary to the purposes for which 1309 federal review jurisdiction was granted -- to 1310 preserve and ensure uniformity of federal 1311 rights
 1312 2. SC doesn't have jurisdiction to review that the 1313 state constitution alone
 1314 3. Old rule was that when the state court held its 1315 own statute invalid yielding to powers, appeal
 1316 was unnecessary¹⁸³
 1317 4. New rule: Act of 1914, allowed SC to hear 1318 things where the state court had sustained
 1319 the federal claim
 1320 (vii) States don't need to have courts, anyway (no requirement in 1321 the constitution)
 1322

¹⁷⁹ Storey in Martin v. Hinters
¹⁸⁰

Name	Martin v. Hunters Lessee, page 495
Facts	Recent Treaty held seized after certain date could be devised to alien. Plaintiff therefore should get land. If the land was not in use, it escheated to the state. State law question of when title vested. This is not a federal question, therefore
Holding	Federal right (treaty) turns on the application of state law. Constitution vests the entire judicial power in one branch.

¹⁸¹ Murdock
¹⁸² Murdock
¹⁸³ Commonwealth Bank of KY v. Griffith

¹⁷⁸ Michigan v. Long

- 1323 viii) States could be possibly be eliminated from federal 1324 jurisdiction under article 10
- 1325 e) Congressional preclusion of both Federal and State Jurisdiction
- 1326 i) State courts would be pried open first because Congress has 1327 less control over state court jurisdiction
- 1328 ii) State courts will be the ultimate guarantor of a constitutional 1329 right if the federal courts are precluded: the state courts have 1330 a general jurisdiction to fall back on¹⁸⁴
- 1331 2) Sovereign immunity in regards to the states-- 11th amendment¹⁸⁵
1332 sovereignty issues. We are unsure if 11th amendment is a rule of 1333 construction or not, under Hans,¹⁸⁶ no citizen was allowed to sue their 1334 state, either¹⁸⁷ (Dissent sees only common law immunity for state 1335 governments)
- 1336 a) Article 3 may allow a suit
- 1337 i) If a suit is brought in diversity and the claims against a state 1338 drop out, the court may still keep¹⁸⁸
- 1339 ii) Reverse Tarbles cases
- 1340 b) Appeals are not subject to sovereign immunity restrictions¹⁸⁹
- 1341 c) Policy arguments
- 1342 i) Question is whether it should be seen that the state is being 1343 forced by the federal courts to comply (choice of form and 1344 federal state relations)
- 1345 (1) Should the states allow themselves to be protected
- 1346 (2) States should be able to opt out

¹⁸⁴ Prof Hart

¹⁸⁵ *The Judicial power of the United States shall not be construed to extend to any suit in law or equity, commenced or prosecuted against one of the United States by Citizens of another State, or by Citizens or Subjects of any Foreign State.*¹⁸⁶

Name	Hans
Facts	No diversity in suit as to whether could state could impair obligation of contracts by refusing to pay interest owed on bonds.
Holding	Dismissed. 11 th amendment extends to bother FQJ and Diversity
Dissent	If the 11 th amendment only restricts diversity suits, and doesn't effect FQJ than Hans was wrongly decided

¹⁸⁷ Hans v. LA

¹⁸⁸ See Pendehurst

¹⁸⁹ Cohens (sp) in Hans v. La

- 1347 ii) Allowing the lower federal courts to fashion a remedy, may be 1348 placing the lower federal courts in a position where they have 1349 not had jurisdiction before
- 1350 iii) Administration of public affairs may become controlled by 1351 judicial tribunals¹⁹⁰
- 1352 d) congressional abrogation of sovereign immunity because 11th
1353 applied to federal courts, and 14th amendment incorporates 1354 (question: if we view these things as a question of federal 1355 common law, does this mean that the states must hear suits 1356 against them)
- 1357 i) deference to congress
- 1358 (1) views
- 1359 (a) current view sovereign immunity constitutional –
- 1360 (i) current view is one of constitutional current view
1361 is that congress can only override 11th by acting 1362 within the 14th amendment – congress can act to 1363 create remedies for constitutional torts¹⁹¹
- 1364 1. can only use pre-existing constitutional rights
1365 – congress cannot be burrowing and finding 1366 new constitutional rights, that the SC's job¹⁹²
- 1367 2. but, if the state courts have completely closed
1368 the doors, we can leave them open again by 1369 having he federal courts hear the case¹⁹³
- 1370 (b) sovereign immunity federal common law
- 1371 (i) general rule is that Congress can't override the 1372 11th amendment except when acting under the 1373 14th
- 1374 (ii) in giving defense to congress is must be realized
1375 that Congress, since Marbury can't expand
1376 jurisdiction
- 1377 (iii) in looking at sovereign immunity (for money 1378 damages) may be in a position to question what 1379 the congressional intent was¹⁹⁴

¹⁹⁰ Alden v. Me

¹⁹¹ Seminole

¹⁹² City of Berne

¹⁹³ Seminole

¹⁹⁴

Name	Pennsylvania v. Union Gas page 1085
Procedure	US v. Gas for superfund. Gas implodes PA. District dismisses PA under 11 th amendment.

1380 (2) dicta: § 1983 may not include sufficient intent to make 1381 states liable¹⁹⁵, congressional intent doesn't need to be in 1382 the text of statute¹⁹⁶
 1383 (a) § 1983 will accept state constitutional applications¹⁹⁷
 1384 in legislating under the commerce clause, congress has 1385 the ability to grant a remedy which would include a 1386 remedy (including money damages) against a state¹⁹⁸
 1387 Constitutional interpretation of 11th amendment precludes all 1388 suits against state government, and under Hans bars all 1389 suits: federal court subject matter jurisdiction is limited by 1390 states' sovereign immunity
 1391 (1) Jurisdictional bar, Defendants could raise the 11th 1392 amendment in court of appeals¹⁹⁹ (federal courts can't 1393 hear suits against state government)
 1394 (a) SUBJECT MATTER JURISDICTION can't be gained 1395 by consent or waiver – and even consent by a state 1396 would not given the federal court jurisdiction to be sued in a federal court (unlike the Tucker act cases or state board of claims)

 (i) Federal Courts have to raise the objections sua esponte on their own to SUBJECT MATTER JURISDICTION, but the court is not sure if this is jurisdictional or not²⁰⁰
 (ii) There might be a problem in that if sovereign immunity is a limit on federal judicial power, this might conflict with supremacy clause theories
 (b) Could be a federalist hedge in favor of state power on diversity jurisdiction²⁰¹: how would state sovereignty be weighted against sovereignty

(a) Majority: Restriction on subject matter jurisdiction of federal courts and bars suits against states²⁰² --²⁰³
 (i) If the 11th amendment reinstates common law immunity, than federal laws can authorize, because statutes can override common law, and federal statutes are supreme over the states.
 (ii) If sovereign immunity is constitutional than statutes can't override constitution
 (b) Minority: precludes subject matter jurisdiction against states based on diversity jurisdiction
 (i) States can be sued by any congressional statutes
 11th amendment only applies to federal courts determining whether official state action – other than unconstitutional statutes (on their face²⁰⁴) or rulings of the highest court, the state court gets the first crack at it²⁰⁵ -- can go up on appeal to the SC
 i) if the state doesn't say it loudly and clearly, than there has not been state action, and these defendant are saying that not only does the state have to authorize (normally cities doesn't actually make statutes) -- using constitutional remedy²⁰⁶

Facts	State may have been partially liable for superfund liability.
Holding	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Congress must make its intent to override the 11th by the 14th. Statute includes the word “persons” and states are included in the definition of the words “person”. • Commerce clause may allow congress to put in liability for states. • 11th amendment doesn't apply to non-common law actions
Concurrence by Stevens	No ability to abrogate sovereign immunity. However, could sue based on 1) Official immunity pass-throughs 2) prospective relief's 3) vindication of federal rights. There are prudential concerns about whether or not the SC should hear the case in the first place, but this matter is so 'freakin' important that the court should hear it.

200 Patsy v. Board of Regents, cf. Wisc. Dept of Corrections v. Schocht
 201 Referring to Chisholm,
 202 Penn. V Union Gas
 203 Seminole Tribe of FL
 204 Younger
 205 Homes
 206

195 Quern
 196 Hutto
 197 Allen
 198 Pennsylvania
 199 Adelman v. Jordan

Name	Home Telegraph, page 1105
Facts	14 th amendment claim that city ordinance set telegraph rates were too low.

- 1430 ii) supplemental Federal remedy to state remedy § 1983 --
 1431 Statutes can allow direct pass into federal court²⁰⁷ -- later 1432 may not need to be requested an denied before the former is 1433 sought (defendant needs to be a person).
 1434 (1) Actions by a police officer, even if unauthorized, so long 1435 as cloaked under state law is under § 1983
 1436 (a) State can conclusively determine whether actions are 1437 constitutional in criminal trial²⁰⁸
 1438 (2) Dissent: these cases belong in state court
 1439 (3) Two categories of 1983 actions
 1440 (a) Unauthorized action
 1441 (b) Official government actions that violate the constitution
 1442 reasons
 1443 (1) lower federal courts are not reviewing state court
 1444 decisions
 1445 (2) allows states to develop their own body of law
 1446 (3) psychological federalism: state can find wrongs done by 1447 its own officers
 1448 (4) if the state actually defies the supremacy clause, and 1449 doesn't give it its due, than the right avenue for 1450 addressing it is the US SC on review
 1451 (a) here the SC says that if you did this, you would be 1452 eviscerating article 3 FQJ, you would be taking a

- 1453 huge trick out of article 3 FQJ, you would have no
 1454 ability to go into federal court in the first instance 1455 (b) court read the 14th amendment as essentially
 1456 creating a separate cause of action in federal court
 1457 unconstitutional conduct²⁰⁹
 1458 iv) sovereign immunity for federal issues in state courts: Testa v.
 1459 Katt says that the state court may need to investigate whether 1460 or not there is a neutral door closing policy regarding these 1461 suits
 1462 v) basic questions²¹⁰
 1463 (1) states are still not precluded from their obligations to the 1464 supremacy clause²¹¹
 1465 (2) whether or not the state has asserted its sovereign
 1466 immunity in a neutral fashion²¹²
 1467 vi) rule: states cannot be forced to hear federal questions
 1468 against the state itself²¹³

Procedure	Federal court refused to grant restraining order.
Holding	State official were acting unconstitutionally, but as the result of an enabling action. Note: this is a constitutional (not statutory cause of action).

207

Name	Monroe v. Pape
Facts	Violation of civil rights by police officers
Holding	Legislative history looks at this as a statutory matter, looks to KKK history, can't look to HT (because this is a statute) is that the letter of the law may be ok, but it might not be enforced.
Dissent	No evidence that there isn't an adequate remedy under state law.

208 Allen

209 Home Telegraph
 210 Alden
 211 Alden
 212 Alden
 213

Name	Alden v. Maine Supp page 124
Facts	State workers claimed that state had violated Fair Labor states act. They sued the state of Maine in their own court, begging the question of whether congress has the power to subject nonconsenting states to suits in their own courts. There seems to have been no waiver and consent in this case.
Procedure	Filed first in federal court. Dismissed. Upheld by appeals court. Filed in state court. Dismissed. On direct appeal to SC of US dismissal affirmed.

- 1469 (1) dissent: not jurisdictional, probably not a good idea to 1470 confuse the 11th amendment with the 10th amendment in 1471 that the 11th amendment doesn't reserve the maintenance
 1472 of certain rights for the state – the 11th amendment
 1473 doesn't create constraints
- 1474 (2) § 1983 against officers: federal court has original 1475 jurisdiction, Federal Remedy. Where state remedy, while 1476 adequate in theory, is not available in practice²¹⁴ --
 1477 state legislatures might not be able to shut state court doors 1478 to hear certain issues (something that the constitution 1479 provides a remedy for) (will assume that legislatures act in 1480 good faith)²¹⁵
- 1481 (1) state courts will always have the power to hear it—
 1482 something that there is a remedy
- 1483 f) possible remedy is suit by Atty. General against states – which 1484 may provide for a remedy²¹⁶ (check this)
- 1485 g) Pass-through
- 1486 i) If the constitution itself (not common law) requires remedies, 1487 then the state courts must hear it²¹⁷ (for example injunction, 1488 refund, or something that the states are obligated to provide)
- 1489 (1) Can be subject to appeal
- 1490 ii) Suits against cities, and agencies that are not sufficiently 1491 state controlled²¹⁸

Holding	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> State courts are under the blanket of sovereign immunity. Powers delegated to congress under article 1 of the Constitution include the power to subject nonconsenting states to private suits for damages in state courts. Might be policy concerns about forcing states to abrogate their own suits State courts must entertain consenting suits against the state when the constitutional itself requires remedies
Dissent	Opinion is treating the 11 th amendment as if it were the 10 th amendment in that this isn't necessary a power which is granted to the states

214 SSS

215 Alden

216 Kennedy in Alden

217 Alden v. Me

218 Penhurts

- 1492 (1) State funding of an agency doesn't give something 1493 sovereign immunity²¹⁹
- 1494 iii) State agencies: even if there is no risk of the state itself 1495 bearing the eventual responsibility than the suit is not barred – 1496 also have to inquire as to whether the fiscal responsibility
 1497 does lie (esp. with a local government)
- 1498 (1) Criteria from Profession Pagan
- 1499 (a) Will a judgement against the entity be satisfied with 1500 funds in the state treasury
- 1501 (b) Does the state government exert significant control
 1502 over the entity's decisions and actions
- 1503 (c) Does the state executive branch of legislature appoint 1504 the city's policy makers
- 1505 (d) Does the state law characterize the agency as a state
 1506 agency rather than as a subdivision
- 1507 Local officers have no immunity: relief can be granted by 1508 federal courts under state law against county officials²²⁰
- 1509 iv) Suits against state officers (no pendant state law claims 1510 against state officers)
- 1511 (1) Can't sue state officers for
- 1512 (a) Quiet title to submerged land²²¹
- 1513 (b) Pendant state law claims against state officers
- 1514 (c) If there is a comprehensive-enforcement mechanism
- 1515 (2) Preclusion only when the state is actually named as a 1516 defendant²²² -- where jurisdiction depends on the party, it 1517 is the party named in the record is what matters
- 1518 (3) Individual capacity suits where state officer was acting in 1519 their individual capacity and not doing the work of the 1520 state²²³

219 Lake County States

220 Lundgren

221 C'oere d' alene tribe

222 Osborne v. Bank of US

223

Name	Hafler
Facts	Firing of democrats by republicans.
Holding	Personal capacity are attempts to impose individual liability on a government officer for actions taken under color of state law. Just because someone was acting in an official capacity – official capacity is defined as how the officer was sued

- 1521 (4) No retrospective relief, and it is irrelevant whether the 1522 individual officers is the named the defendant rather than 1523 the state²²⁴
 1524 (a) Criticism: both involve more, and there is no
 1525 guarantee that prospective relief would cost less.²²⁵ –
 1526 conceptual problems
 1527 (b) Distinguishing prospective from retrospective relief
 1528 (i) Remedial measure for past harms are 1529 prospective, even if they are a remedy for past
 1530 harms²²⁶
 1531 (ii) Atty's fees for 42 USC § 1988 (civil rights) are not 1532 retrospective: because it is ancillary to the 1533 injunctive relief ordered in favor of the Plaintiff's 1534 227 (note: also based on congressional override of 1535 11th amendment)
 1536 (5) Injunctive relief even when will enjoin from an official state
 1537 policy²²⁸ a.k.a. prospective or ancillary relief

224

Name	Adelman
Facts	State didn't process welfare applications according to federal standards. Plaintiff wanted 1) injunction to comply with federal guidelines in the future 2) injunction requiring back payments of all the funds that were previously improperly withheld.
Holding	11 th amendment doesn't bar order barring state compliance in the future.

225 Adelman

226 Miliken

227 Hutto

228

Name	Ex parte Young
Facts	MN had a rr rate regime structure. RR wanted an injunction to prevent enforcement of the law on commerce clause. MN officer tried to enforce. Habeas corpus claim.
Holding	Unconstitutional acts not protected. 11 th doesn't bar suits against state officers to enjoin violations of federal law. Illegal acts are stripped of state authority.
Criticism	Fictional distinction between state and its officers. State is real party in interest.

- 1538 (a) Unconstitutional by officers acts not protected 1539 (b) Doesn't matter if it would cost a lot of money to 1540 comply²²⁹
 1541 (i) For example welfare benefits can't be denied²³⁰
 1542 Monetary relief
 1543 (a) Could sue officers in their individual capacity for 1544 damages, out of own pockets²³¹ (individual capacity 1545 suit)
 1546 (i) State indemnification doesn't matter
 1547 (ii) Still must overcome qualified immunity issues²³²
 1548 (b) Suits for money damages to be paid from state
 1549 treasury are barred²³³
 1550 vi) States waiver of 11th amendment immunity and consent to suit 1551 14th amendment exception (14th amendment may trump the 1552 11th amendment)
 1553 viii) states v. states²³⁴ suing to protect its own interests, and not to 1554 protect the proprietary interests of its citizens
 1555 ix) admiralty provided that *in rem jurisdiction is proper*²³⁵
 1556 waiver by states of 11th amendment sovereign immunity 1557 i) explicit waiver: statutes must include intention to be sued in 1558 federal court
 1559 (1) cannot be general waiver of 11th sovereign immunity 1560 (can't just say "in any court of competent jurisdiction"²³⁶
 1561 (2) valid waiver could include a specification of venue which 1562 could include a federal court²³⁷
 1563 ii) constructive waiver
 1564 (1) may only exist if Congress explicitly evidence an attempt 1565 to make state's liable²³⁸ -- and if the state appears to 1566 voluntarily want to engage in that conduct 1567 i) procedural alternatives

229 Kern v. Jordan; Miliken v. Bardley, Adleman

230 Graham v. Richardson

231 Ford Motor

232 11th amendment

233 Ford Motor

234 Colorado v. New Mexico

235 FI Dept of State v. Treasure Salvors, and Deep Sea Research

236 Kennecott Copper Corp

237 Path (

238 Adelman

- 1568 i) a suit that is properly before the federal court with both state 1569 and federal claims, when the federal claims drop out, under 1570 Penhurts, supplemental jurisdiction may fail²³⁹
 1571 (1) will be a bar of relief based on state law in federal court
 1572 stripping state officers of immunity²⁴⁰ esp. if the state officer
 1573 acted tortiously²⁴¹
 1574 (1) when the official is engaged in conduct that the sovereign
 1575 has not authorized²⁴²

239

Name	Pennhurst page 1077 (dissent on page 1079)
Procedure	Federal and state claims heard in District Court. Upheld on merits in C-o-a, but only with regards to federal claims. SC held that federal claims did not include a remedy. Remanded for decision of whether other claims were valid, to continue federal jurisdiction, 3 rd circuit held that there was a state law claim. SC held that because of sovereign immunity, the federal court could not hear state law claim.
Facts	State and Federal cause of action. SC held that federal cause of action did not create any substantive rights. SC held that federal courts could not grant relief based on state law based on 11 th amendment (if the state is the real party in interest).
Holding	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> No jurisdiction if the federal claims drop out – even if due to remedial reasons. Powell: Pendant jurisdiction is just a judge-made doctrine of efficiency, and constitutional right.
Dissent	Officer's wrong stripped him of constitutional protections, making the suit one against him, rather than one against the state. Pendant jurisdiction, based on prior cases is valid, because action is against the officer, not the state. There can still be ultra vires actions.

- 1576 (2) when he has engaged in conduct that the sovereign has 1577 forbidden²⁴³
 1578 i) doctrinal alternatives
 1579 i) abstention doctrine where there are in progress court
 1580 proceedings
 1581 ii) but, if the state courts have completely closed the doors, we 1582 can leave them open again by having he federal courts hear 1583 the case²⁴⁴
 1584 3) Habeas is a remedy designed by the courts²⁴⁵ -- procedure and 1585 number of "bites" defined by courts, under Teague, due to the 1586 retroactivity test, the only inquiry is whether the state court misread
 1587 the law as it stood at the time²⁴⁶
 1588 a) Uses:
 1589 i) prisoners
 1590 (1) Federal prisoners²⁴⁷
 1591 (2) State prisoners²⁴⁸ -- but state prisoners must have 1592 exhausted all available state remedies²⁴⁹
 1593 (3) Conviction by military court
 1594 (4) Denial of parole
 1595 (5) Release from custody of someone who was acting 1596 pursuant to the direction of a foreign national and in 1597 accordance with international law²⁵⁰
 1598 ii) Civil confinement
 1599 iii) Deportation order
 1600 iv) Extradition order
 1601 v) Securing testimony²⁵¹
 1602 b) Reasoning
 1603 i) Form of oversight²⁵² of a particular class of cases

242. Larosn

243. Larosn

244. Seminole

245. Bron

Brown	Mere error sufficient
Stone	Will only protect rights against public (ie no 4 th amendment)

246. Teague

247. 28 USC 2255

248. 28 USC 2254

249. 28 USC 2254b

250. 28 USC 2241c4

251. 28 USC 2241c5

252. Hamilton in Federalist Paper 82

240. Laron

241. Disset in Pennhurts page 1080

- 1604 (1) Lower federal can't enjoin state proceedings²⁵³
- 1605 ii) Protects rights that the public has -- not individual rights²⁵⁴
- 1606 iii) Allowing relitigation of constitution issues of habeas because
- 1607 of the failure of state courts to give adequate protection to
- 1608 constitutional rights²⁵⁵
- 1609 iv) Reduce burden on federal courts because states might get it
- 1610 right the first time
- 1611 (1) custody is illegal when based on constitutional illegal
- 1612 (a) Constitution provides a remedy to a remedy
- 1613 whenever based on constitutional error
- 1614 (2) Cruel and usual punishment issues
- 1615 (3) if there a court has decided that there is no error, than
- 1616 one would need to recognize that judgement
- 1617 (4) exception to res judicata is made because Habeas
- 1618 corpus might be a protection of a liberty interest
- 1619 any federal claim looked at in the state court may be looked
- 1620 at in federal habeas corpus -- three rationales²⁵⁶
- 1621 (1) Custody is fundamentally illegal if it is based on a
- 1622 constitutional error: The 1867 act might be a specific
- 1623 congressional mandate that they don't need to extend full
- 1624 faith and credit to state court judgement in this area²⁵⁷
- 1625 (2) 1867 act essentially expressed the idea that every person
- 1626 who has a potential of custody is entitled to a hearing, if
- 1627 there is a federal dimension to the case, as opposed to
- 1628 having to make due with the state hearing²⁵⁸
- 1629 (a) this view is linked to the rest of what went on post civil
- 1630 war
- 1631 (b) congress may have thought if there was a federal
- 1632 dimension to the case, it must be held in the state
- 1633 court
- 1634 (3) Substitute for appellate SC review: to review legal
- 1635 questions. The factual record is determined in the state
- 1636 court.
- 1637 (a) SC couldn't do what everyone thought it would do
- 1638 before
- 1639 (b) The state courts might not get enough of what the
- 1640 federal rights are

²⁵³ Atlantic rr

²⁵⁴ Strone v. Powell

²⁵⁵ Brown

²⁵⁶ Brown v. Allen

²⁵⁷ Brown v. Allen

²⁵⁸ Brown v. Allen

- 1641 vi) SC isn't the only forum for Habeas because We can't just rely
- 1642 on a court of low volume -- this is the law accepting the facts,
- 1643 as the state court developed
- 1644 vii) state court good for determining facts²⁵⁹
- 1645 (1) exhaustion²⁶⁰
- 1646 (2) develop good state law²⁶¹
- 1647 viii) History -- questions of jurisdiction, and whether or not the
- 1648 court, in failing to hearing a habeas claim is violating
- 1649 separation of powers
- 1650 (1) Until 1915, the federal court was interpreted as only able
- 1651 to look at jurisdictional defects
- 1652 (a) Of course to convict someone under an
- 1653 unconstitutional statute may be an issue of jurisdiction
- 1654 (2) In 1915, the court expanded its idea of what a federal
- 1655 court could do
- 1656 (a) They said that they were there to address problems of
- 1657 fairness in the state court proceedings
- 1658 (b) if you bring a claim which says that there was
- 1659 something wrong with the state court, then they will
- 1660 here that
- 1661 ix) Protection of federally created interests
- 1662 (1) custody interest
- 1663 (2) liberty interests
- 1664 c) Hurdles
- 1665 i) Shoe ins because of per se constitutional violations
- 1666 (1) Racial composition can always be brought in²⁶²
- 1667 (2) Miranda²⁶³
- 1668 (3) Whether or not evidence presented at trial measure up to
- 1669 reasonable doubt (violates due process)²⁶⁴ -- new statute
- 1670 doesn't differentiate between innocent and other
- 1671 constitutional claims (6th amendment)
- 1672 ii) Constitutional issue
- 1673 (1) Default as to whether an issue was a constitutional issue
- 1674 or not
- 1675 (a) Early Warren Court: unless strategically ignored, one
- 1676 could raise them. Forfeiture of federal remedies does

²⁵⁹ TN v. Davis

²⁶⁰ TN v. Davis

²⁶¹ TN v. Davis

²⁶² Rose v. Mitchell

²⁶³ Withrow v. Williams

²⁶⁴ Jackson v. Virginias

1677 not legitimize state court unconstitutional conduct²⁶⁵
 1678 (assumes that procedural negligence is neglect) --
 1679 now overturned²⁶⁶
 1680 (b) Later Burger Court: if the defendant could 1681 demonstrate actual innocence or cause for the 1682 procedural default -- default is that the procedural 1683 default is not jurisdictional, but rather must be 1684 preserved by the government – procedural defaults
 1685 are not jurisdictional, and must be preserved by the 1686 government – so the government must preserve the 1687 issue on appeal²⁶⁷ (for example substituting cause
 1688 and prejudice rule for deliberate bypass). (based on 1689 assumption that procedural oversight is deliberate)
 1690 (c) Same standard as MI v. Long: we know if we have 1691 something solely on constitutional grounds if the court
 1692 says so²⁶⁸
 1693 (i) Court will look if a federal ground is relevant to 1694 the decision²⁶⁹
 1695 (2) constitutional claims can be relitigated²⁷⁰
 1696 (a) exception: No relitigation of 4th amendment issues²⁷¹
 1697 (i) no relitigation of 4th amendment claims of federal 1698 prisoners, because issue has already been 1699 handled²⁷² - rights have already been protected
 1700 (b) But for state prisoners the relief is only available
 1701 when the determination was contrary to, or involved
 1702 an unreasonable application of clearly establish 1703 federal law as determined by the SC
 1704 (3) Factual hearing is permissible for matters not raised at 1705 the state trial only if the habeas petition can show cause
 1706 and prejudice²⁷³
 1707 (a) Criteria for retrying facts:
 1708 (i) merits of the factual dispute were not resolved,
 1709 the state factual determination is not fairly 1710 supported by record as whole he fact-finding

1711 procedure employed by the state court was not 1712 adequate to afford a full and fair hearing;
 1713 (ii) Substantial allegation of newly discovered
 1714 evidence material factors were not adequate
 1715 developed at state-court hearing for any reason it
 1716 appears that the state trier of fact did not afford²⁷⁴
 1717 the habeas applicant a full and fair fact hearing, it
 1718 must provide a written explanation²⁷⁵ --
 1719 (b) if the appellate court goes against the state court, it
 1720 must provide a written explanation²⁷⁵ --
 1721 (c) Juror disqualification: offensiveness view is a
 1722 question of law, existing of view is one of fact²⁷⁶
 1723 (d) Mixed questions of law and fact are not considered
 1724 facts (Brown is Controlling)²⁷⁷
 1725 Requirement of litigation of federal issue at state level
 1726 (1) federal claims must be fairly presented to state court²⁷⁸ --
 1727 for example in the record²⁷⁹ (see later)
 1728 (a) supplemental (not new) evidence permitted²⁸⁰
 1729 (i) can be additional statistical evidence²⁸⁰
 1730 (b) Deliberate bypass of the state court by failing, either
 1731 deliberately or by means of procedure to raise claim
 1732 generally subject to the cause and prejudice
 1733 standard²⁸¹ -- applies to failure to appeal in state 1734 court systems and failure to raise on appeal -- must 1735 have both cause and prejudice
 1736 (i) Logic: Cause and prejudice rule reduces 1737 sandbagging on the part of defense lawyers.
 1738 State courts are not a tryout on the road²⁸²
 1739 (ii) definitions
 1740 (2) exhaustion: state prisoners must have exhausted all
 1741 available state remedies²⁸³ -- adequate state grounds
 1742 (a) if a state court overlooks a procedural default and 1743 decides the federal claim, the federal court on habeas have jurisdiction to teach the merits²⁸⁴

265 Fay
 266 Fay overturned by Coleman v. Thomas
 267 Wainwright
 268 Harris v. Reed
 269 Coleman
 270 Brown (Warren)
 271 Stone v. Powell
 272 Kaudman
 273 Keeney v. Tamayo

274 Townsend and 2254d
 275 2254d
 276 Rushen v. Spain
 277 Summer v Mata II
 278 Picard v. Conner
 279 Picard v. Conner
 280 Vasquez v. Hillery
 281 Wainwright
 282 Rhenquist in Fay v. Noia
 283 28 USC 2254b

- 1744 Comity²⁸⁵
- 1745 (i) Theoretical opposition is that it is in contravention
- 1746 of statutory command
- 1747 (ii) Strong theoretical argument that the SC shouldn't
- 1748 create additional federal procedural common law
- 1749 barriers to habeas²⁸⁶ as Congress was pretty
- 1750 clear in its intent
- 1751 1. Debate as to whether to limit habeas to
- 1752 people who are arguably innocent²⁸⁷ v. idea
- 1753 that habeas is a constitutional protection²⁸⁸
- 1754 History: Waiver and bypass are not doctrines
- 1755 of forfeiture: Federal Claims not raised could
- 1756 not be brought up in Habeas unless
- 1757 deliberately bypassed²⁸⁹ -- but District court,
- 1758 in its discretion could look at the merits of the
- 1759 strategy (for example was it a grisly choice)
- 1760 and decide whether or not it was a deliberate
- 1761 bypass²⁹⁰
- 1762 a. Really old rule Old rule: substantive and
- 1763 procedural rules were treated the same;
- 1764 procedural is both adequate and
- 1765 independent, and the case doesn't go up
- 1766 on direct review to the SC
- 1767 b. Old rule: adequate state procedural
- 1768 grounds did not apply to habeas²⁹¹ as no
- 1769 judgement is really necessary for Habeas
- 1770 i. Dissent: if there is a state court
- 1771 judgement (as there was in Noia)
- 1772 than court should look at procedural
- 1773 grounds²⁹²
- 1774 c. Current rule: Adequate state ground
- 1775 would preclude in federal courts (and on
- 1776 direct review) Federal Court/SC review²⁹³

²⁸⁴ Warden v. Hayden

²⁸⁵ Ex parte Royall

²⁸⁶ Reddish

²⁸⁷ Friendly, and Manson v. Brathwaite

²⁸⁸ Bator

²⁸⁹ Fay v. Noia (Warren)

²⁹⁰ Fay v. Voia

²⁹¹ Faye

²⁹² Noia

²⁹³ Waynright v. Sykes quoting Davis

- 1777 i. Note: this rule evolved from a
- 1778 recitation of principles of direct
- 1779 review, to an application of Habeas
- 1780 review of state court issues
- 1781 ii. Novel claims have to be completely
- 1782 unavailable
- 1783 iii. Three part inquiry into state
- 1784 procedural grounds: 1) legitimate
- 1785 state interest or arid ritual of
- 1786 meaningless form, was it served in
- 1787 some other way, if there is a knowing
- 1788 waiver than it won't be looked at
- 1789 (b) Will have to assess whether one is looking at cause
- 1790 and prejudice or the deliberate bypass std of Noia
- 1791 (i) Note: Henry v. MS (deliberate bypass) has never
- 1792 technically been overruled
- 1793 (ii) Waynright v. Sykes definitions of Cause and
- 1794 Prejudice
- 1795 1. cause (for failure to raise issue): this is to
- 1796 reduce resource drain, and force Defendant
- 1797 to bear risk of error unless they are their
- 1798 defense was constitutionally deficient²⁹⁴
- 1799 a. some objective factor external to the
- 1800 defense impeded counsels efforts to
- 1801 comply with state's procedural rule²⁹⁵
- 1802 i. i.e. later discovered evidence of
- 1803 prosecutorial misconduct²⁹⁶ defense:
- 1804 procedural default cannot act as a
- 1805 bar to non-compliance
- 1806 ii. ineffective assistance of counsel (not
- 1807 error) need not be raised at trial
- 1808 b. Futility of objection cannot alone
- 1809 constitute cause for failure to object²⁹⁷ --

²⁹⁴ Murray

²⁹⁵ Murray v. Carter

²⁹⁶ Murray

²⁹⁷

1810 "it cannot be said that the prisoners
 1811 lacked the tools to construct a
 1812 constitutional argument" – defense
 1813 counsels are not expected to raise every 1814 possible claim
 1815
 1816 c. Changes in the law
 1817 i. Old rule: Reed exception: Some 1818 legal claims may be novel so as not 1819 to be presented by counsel²⁹⁸ -- but 1820 mere novelty isn't enough²⁹⁹: "the 1821 cause requirement may be satisfied
 1822 under certain circumstances when a 1823 procedural faire is not attributable to 1824 an intentional decision by counsel in 1825 pursuit of his client's interests"³⁰⁰
 1826 ii. New rule: a new rule can't be applied
 1827 on Habeas, so Reed might be 1828 overruled³⁰¹ -- Teague exception
 1829 "without the likelihood of an accurate
 1830 conviction being seriously
 1831 diminished"
 1832
 1833 2. Prejudice
 1834 a. Results would likely have been different had the constitutional problems not have happened³⁰²

b. Must show not just the possibility of prejudice but the potential that they effected the outcome of the trial
 c. Actual and substantial disadvantage and substantial likelihood of other verdict³⁰³
 d. Might not have been convicted³⁰⁴
 e. Reasonable probability³⁰⁵
 i. Esp. with ineffective counsel³⁰⁶
 f. Denial of assistance of counsel is presumed prejudice³⁰⁷
 (iii) Alternative to cause (still need prejudice) is actual innocence (but maybe truism): in an extraordinary case, where the constitutional violation resulted in conviction of someone who is innocent, a federal habeas court may grant the write even in the absence of showing of cause for procedural default
 1. Threshold "extraordinarily high"³⁰⁸
 2. Constitutional violation "probably resulted" in conviction of one who is actually innocent³⁰⁹ -
 - claims of innocence together with constitutional issues
 a. Standard
 i. Old: more likely than not that no reasonable juror would have convicted him³¹⁰
 ii. New: clear and convincing evidence that but for the constitutional error, no reasonable juror would find someone guilty (or eligible for the death penalty)³¹¹
 3. Death penalty: convincing evidence that but for constitutional error at his sentencing juror

From <http://case.tm>

Facts	Question of whether it is the state that needs to prove self-defense beyond a reasonable doubt. Prisoners argued that there was no way that they could have learned of the constitutionality of the claim.
Holding	O'Conner: Although having the state prove that someone did not act in self defense is a colorable constitutional claim, the failure to bring it up based on futility is not cause.

²⁹⁸ Reed v. Ross
²⁹⁹ Reed v. Ross
³⁰⁰ Reed
³⁰¹ Teague
³⁰² US v. Fradey

³⁰³ Frady
³⁰⁴ Reed
³⁰⁵ Strickland
³⁰⁶ Strickland
³⁰⁷ Dicta in Strickland
³⁰⁸ Herrera
³⁰⁹ Schup v Delo
³¹⁰ Schup v Delo
³¹¹ sawyer v. witley

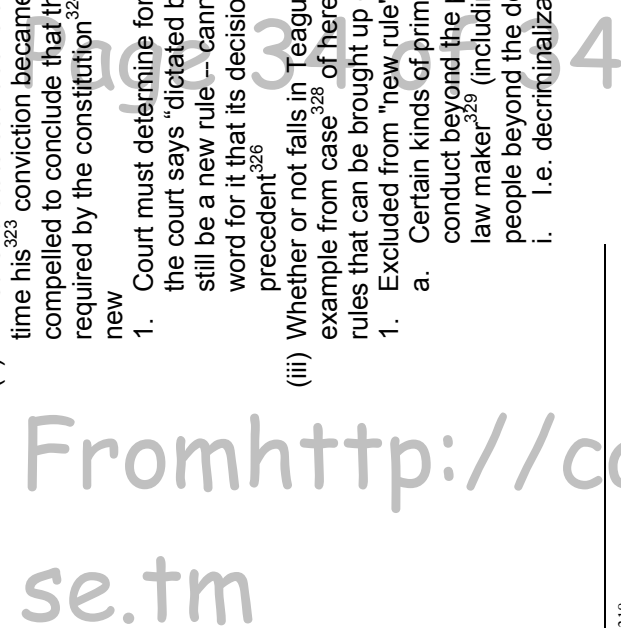

1868 no reasonable juror would have found him
 1869 eligible for the death penalty³¹² -- 1870 a. Reasoning behind different treatment of 1871 death penalty issues
 1872 i. Majority seems to bar habeas claims
 1873 based solely on actual innocence³¹³
 1874 ii. Scalia and Thomas say that evidence
 1875 alone is not enough to demand
 1876 judicial consideration of new 1877 evidence³¹⁴
 1878 iii. minority called standard perverse
 1879 (death penalty involves both 1880 aggravating and mitigating issues)
 1881 iv. fear on the part of O'Connor and 1882 Kennedy that denial of Habeas could 1883 execute men
 1884 b. Usually based on interference by state 1885 officials, and not inadvertence by 1886 counsel³¹⁵
 1887 i. Presumption against ineffective
 1888 assistance by counsel³¹⁶
 1889 ii. But there is no need to plead 1890 ineffective assistance at counsel at 1891 trial
 1892
 1893 iv) Cannot ask for new rules
 1894 (1) Retroactivity is a jurisdictional bar
 1895 (a) Before Teague, on Habeas could ask for and get a 1896 new rule, which wouldn't apply to others of the same 1897 class.
 1898 (b) After Teague, as a jurisdictional inquiry, they would 1899 decide the retroactive question first 1900 (i) Exceptions for actual innocence and death
 1901 penalty
 1902 (2) Petitions may only bring up rights that existed at the time
 1903 of their petition³¹⁷

(3) no new rules: Habeas petition cannot seek recognition of new principles of constitutional law³¹⁸ -- unless it is a right that is applied retroactively. Court must determine first whether these rules would be applied retroactively. -- statutory backdrop³¹⁹
 (a) Very few claims really have retroactive effect anyway.
 (b) Three step process³²⁰: Teague provides a bright line test between an old law and making a new law. We don't get to a retroactivity test unless it is a question of new law³²¹
 (i) Determine final date of conviction³²²
 (ii) Whether a state court considering the claim at the time his³²³ conviction became final would have felt compelled to conclude that the rule he seeks was required by the constitution³²⁴ -- then the rule is new

1. Court must determine for itself³²⁵ and even if the court says "dictated by precedent" it could still be a new rule -- cannot take a court's word for it that its decision was dictated by precedent³²⁶
 (iii) Whether or not falls in Teague examples.³²⁷ For example from case³²⁸ of heretofore-unaddressed rules that can be brought up on habeas.
 1. Excluded from "new rule"
 a. Certain kinds of primary, individual conduct beyond the power of the criminal law maker³²⁹ (including putting certain people beyond the death penalty)³³⁰.
 i. I.e. decriminalization of abortions

318 Teague v. Lane
 319 28 USC 2254d1
 320 O'Dell v Netherland
 321 Teague
 322 O'Dell v Netherland
 323 O'Dell v Netherland
 324 O'Dell v Netherland
 325 Butler
 326 Scalia in Butler
 327 O'Dell v Netherland
 328 Teague
 329 Teague
 330 Penry

312 Sayer v. Whitley
 313 Herrera
 314 Herrera
 315 Murray v. Carrier
 316 Strickland
 317 Teague

- 1934 ii. Elimination of classes of punishment
- 1935 or a statute or offense (i.e. not
- 1936 executing retarded people)³³¹
- 1937 iii. Free speech
- 1938 iv. Jurisdictional defects will always be
- 1939 included
- 1940 b. Implicit concepts in the area of ordered
- 1941 liberty – for example watershed rules of
- 1942 criminal procedure³³²
- 1943 i. Or future dangerousness
- 1944 c. Steven's dissent test³³³
- 1945 i. Determine whether the trial court
- 1946 violated any constitutional rights³³⁴
- 1947 ii. Decide whether the petitioner is
- 1948 entitled to relief³³⁵
- 1949 iii. Retroactivity inquiry should focus on
- 1950 the magnitude of unfairness³³⁶
- 1951 2. Determining whether something is a new rule
- 1952 under Teague
- 1953 a. The fact that a court says that its decision
- 1954 is "within the logical compass" or
- 1955 controlling is no conclusive for deciding
- 1956 whether or no it is a "new rule" under
- 1957 Teague.³³⁷
- 1958 i. Can't rely on how this claim has been
- 1959 characterized by other courts. (if the
- 1960 other court says it is not dictated by
- 1961 precedent)³³⁸
- 1962 b. If precedent doesn't dictate than it might
- 1963 be a new rule³³⁹
- 1964 c. Imposes a new obligation on the
- 1965 government³⁴⁰

331 Penry
 332 Teague
 333 Stephens in Teague
 334 Stephens in Teague
 335 Stephens in Teague
 336 Stephens in Teague
 337 Butler
 338 Butler
 339 Saffle
 340 Teague

- 1966 d. Outcome of the case announcing the rule
- 1967 was susceptible to debate among
- 1968 reasonable minds³⁴¹
- 1969 (c) But, there need not be a case directly on point in
- 1970 determine if there is a new rule³⁴² dissent: there is
- 1971 nothing new in a rule that gives capital defendant the
- 1972 opportunity to defend in the state's penalty phase
- 1973 (d) A "novel setting" is not a new rule³⁴³
- 1974 (4) Standard for new rules: court of appeals is relevant, but
- 1975 not despositive for new rules³⁴⁴
- 1976 d) Validity of Repeated petitions
- 1977 i) Should pursue all claims at once, and court will presume that
- 1978 petitioner knows enough to bring all of them, absent
- 1979 substantive prejudice³⁴⁵
- 1980 (1) Dissent (Blackman, Marshall, and Stevens) – should
- 1981 make an exception when the government wrongly
- 1982 withholds information³⁴⁶
- 1983 ii) New law requires authorization of court of appeals³⁴⁷ -- not
- 1984 appealable, but SC still has original jurisdiction³⁴⁸
- 1985 (1) applicant must show that the claim relies on a new
- 1986 constitutional rule made retroactive
- 1987 (2) Factors which guide the discretionary choices³⁴⁹ from
- 1988 Common law and from the advisory committee notes
- 1989 (a) If the same ground presented in the subsequent
- 1990 application was determine adversely to the applicant
- 1991 on the prior application³⁵⁰
- 1992 (b) The prior determination was reached on the merits³⁵¹
- 1993 (c) The ends of justice would not be served by reaching
- 1994 the merits of the subsequent application³⁵²
- 1995 iii) Factual predicate for the claim could not have been
- 1996 discovered though due diligence

341 Butler v. McKellar
 342 Stringer
 343 Clemons v MI
 344 Butler
 345 McLeskey v. Zant
 346 McLeskey v. Zant
 347 28 USC 2244a
 348 Felker
 349 Sanders
 350 Sanders
 351 Sanders
 352 Sanders

1997 (1) New information between first and second petition
 1998 If the legality of the detention has been determined earlier,
 1999 can't bring it up again³⁵³
 2000 Successive Habeas petition could not be brought unless there 2001 is cause for not present the issue in the first petition and 2002 prejudice to not having the successive petition heard³⁵⁴
 2003 Procedure
 2004 i) Habeas petition names custodian (for example Warden)
 2005 ii) One year sol -- 6 months for capital on state court issues
 2006 (1) Tolls when a petition is pending -- not tolled for periods
 2007 before and after³⁵⁵
 2008 iii) State or US Atty. defends, but dismissal can be granted
 2009 without hearing
 2010 iv) Venue: Every federal court does have jurisdiction^{356,357}
 2011 (1) Must be filed with district that sentenced them³⁵⁸
 2012 (2) If filed in the wrong judicial can be transferred 2013 v) Rules
 2014 (1) Judge can dismiss if there is no grounds
 2015 (2) Judge must grant leave for discovery
 2016 Standard of review if Habeas granted
 2017 i) New Law
 2018 (1) Parallel to official immunity doctrine -- will look at what 2019 law looked like at time of ruling by trial judge³⁵⁹ from 2020 prospective of SC
 2021 (2) Two views of standard or review (dueling maxims of 2022 statutory interpretation)
 2023 (a) Codification of Teague (limiting Teague to only SC 2024 precedents)³⁶⁰ -- anything else might eliminate 2025 exceptions to Teague for Retroactivity and actual 2026 innocence
 2027 (b) New statutory schema (two subviews): doesn't really
 2028 touch adequate state procedural grounds doctrine
 2029 (i) Majority: no longer a de novo remedy

³⁵³ 2244a

³⁵⁴ McLeskey v. Zant

³⁵⁵ 28 USC 2244d2

³⁵⁶ Braden v. 30th Judicial Circuit Court of KY

³⁵⁷ Aherns

³⁵⁸ 28 USC 2255

³⁵⁹ 2254(d)

³⁶⁰ Brian in Dissent

(ii) Habeas is a limited for of appellate review of state court decisions to make sure that state court comprehends supremacy clause obligations
 1. Limited exceptions for death penalty
 2. Note: unreasonable factual determinations of facts presented are based on a decision of facts presented are a basis for review under new statute
 3. Objective and subjective views of application of law
 a. Subjective: we need to find out what the judge could have known at the time and whether or not it was reasonable
 b. Objective standard from new statute: we need to find out whether the judge actually applied the correct law to the facts -- this is not a question of whether reasonable minds may differ, but of the magnitude of the error³⁶¹
 i. If it was a reasonable error, then there will be no reversal
 ii) Under Brown, Mere error on any federal claim is sufficiency³⁶²
 -- note: Brown's grounds for granting relief is overruled
 (1) at the moment there are only 3 votes on the court willing to overturn Brown v. Allen
 (a) Important exception for fourth: Where the state has provided an opportunity for full and fair litigation of a 4th amendment claim, a state prisoner may not be granted federal habeas corpus relief on the ground that the evidence obtained in an unconstitutional search or seize was introduced at trial³⁶³ criticized on the basis of separation of powers and legislative intent³⁶⁴ (there was a question as to whether or not

³⁶¹ Taylor

³⁶² Brown

³⁶³ Stone v. Powell

³⁶⁴ Criticisms of Stone v. Powell

2063 Brown would survive Stone, but it seems to be limited
 2064 to only 4th amendment claims)
 2065 (i) If 4th amendment issue was vetted, than it is 2066 precluded as 4th amendment issues are not "guilt
 2067 related"³⁶⁵
 2068 1. 4th amendment right is not a personal
 2069 constitutional right³⁶⁶
 2070 (b) Stone has not been extended, and Habeas claims 2071 have gone to jury instructions. makeup, assistance of 2072 counsel, Mirada
 2073 (2) Error/harmless error
 2074 (a) Error is harmless unless had a substantial and 2075 injurious effect or influence on jury's verdict³⁶⁷ --
 2076 much better on direct review³⁶⁸
 2077 (b) Deliberate or egregious is a shoe-in³⁶⁹
 2078 (3) Structural defect requires automatic reversal³⁷⁰
 2079 (4) comparative standards of review
 2080 (a) direct review: very harsh, SC will not address a 2081 federal defense when a procedural default prevent 2082 the defendant from raising the issue in state court

(b) removal is for error - remedy is de novo review
 (c) appellate is for error - remedy is de novo review
 (5) Novelty of claim: raising an issue that didn't exist at the state court proceeding, might get around procedural default, but there is a Teague Problem -- unsure of under statute
 iii) in Martin v. Hunter's lessee, if the state is actually injecting itself, we ought to give the review that handles that problem -- and we ought to give the review to see if there was a full and fair hearing to that claim
 g) appeal of Habeas
 i) certificate of appealability required³⁷¹ -- there is no right of appeal to the state to appeal

Page 37 of 37

From <http://case.tm>

Separation of Powers. Exceeded judicial rule in deciding what claims could be heard	Bator: Habeas meant only to be review of Jurisdiction Peller: Congress was distrustful of state courts No indication that Congress wanted 4 th amendment claims treated differently
Parity between state and federal courts	Federal Courts are uniquely situated to give constitutional relief v. idea that state courts understand constitutional claims
Challenge of assumption that review of exclusionary rule claims serve little purpose	Idea of habeas to make sure no one is incarcerated illegally.

³⁶⁵ Stone v. Powell
³⁶⁶ Stone
³⁶⁷ Brecht
³⁶⁸ Chapman
³⁶⁹ Brecht
³⁷⁰ Brecht